6 PRIVATE HORSES AT AUCTION,
THIS DAY (Thursday), October 1,
at 11 o'clock prompt,
at the private stable,
146 West Twenty-eighth street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues.
A gentleman disposed to close his stable for the present will offer for sale his 6 Horses, Harness and Carriages, to the highest bidder, without reserve.
One pair of dark bay carriage Horses, 16.3 hands, no white, black points, 7 years old, and are sound and kind in all work; this pair have always been much admired by those who ride in the Park as a pair of great strength, light, high action and lofty, graceful movement, and very suitable for a large family carriage; they are uncommonly safe and gentle, and would under no circumstances do a wrong thing; thoroughly broken, even and quiet in their temperament, and always self contained and reliable; there is not a stronger, safer or a more serviceable pair of gentleman's carriage horses; seven years old last spring.
One brown Horse 16 hands; suitable for a coupe, before which he has been used; a fine appearing, safe, serviceable horse; handles the coupe with great ease, and strength, and is sound and kind in every place and in all work; he is not only a harness horse, either double or single, but one of the best saddle horses in the city, having under the saddle all the gaits, single foot, leap and trot, and all of them easy and perfect; he is 6 years old last spring, and was raised in Dutchess county, New York, and sired by Columbus; warranted sound and kind in every particular.
One chestnut Gelding, 15.3 hands, 6 years old and warranted sound, reliable and kind in all work; he has been used as a single buggy wagon horse, and is a smooth, even, easy driver and an extra stepper, uncommonly rugged and hardy, and has all the gentleness required by a lady driver; warranted sound and kind.
One Trotting Mare (dark cherry bay), 15.3 hands and has wonderful style and action; perfectly gentle; requires neither skill nor strength to drive her, big gaited, goes clear and does not need boots of any kind; can beat three minutes to a top wagon, with two in it; warranted sound and kind; she has been in the possession of the present owner for three years, and he has never had a horse more prized for docility, endurance, hardiness and kindness; she is an invaluable family mare, and incomparable for pleasant, safe driving on the road; 8 years old last spring.
One trotting Horse, Winfield, dark bay, 15.1 hands, grandson of the old Rysdick's Hambletonian, whom he resembles in color, shape and size more closely than any of his colts; he was sired by Major Winfield and raised by J. Rezans, of Owego; he trotted when 4 years old, in 2:55, and can now, being 7 years, trot in 2:50, though he has never been trained any farther than simply pleasure afternoon driving on the road; he is in every sense a gentleman's road horse; stylish, not excitable in company; honest and level in work, and always good for 3 minutes, two in the wagon, and can trot 3 or 4 miles to the top of his speed without distress or fatigue; has wonderful strength and endurance; warranted sound and kind and to beat 3 minutes.
This is a genuine sale of valuable horses, and should not be confounded with regular weekly sales, as this is the only offer, publicly, that will be made of these horses, and the only sale that will be made at this stable.

JOHN KELLY'S REPLY.

An Elaborate Answer to Mayor Havemeyer.

FACTS, FIGURES AND FRAUDS.

The Mayor's Charges Declared Malicious and False.

THE LAW AND THE TRUTH.

Explanation of the Irish Birth Question.

EX-TAMMANY MAGNATES AND KELLY.

Reminiscences of Morrissey, Croker, Connolly and Watson.

The following is the reply of Mr. Kelly to the charges of Mayor Havemeyer. It is, as indicated in the HERALD yesterday, a clear and almost bald narration of facts and figures, with very little accompanying comment. The latter part of the letter, which deals with the personal history of well known politicians in a few crisp sentences, will be read with interest by the general reader. Mr. Kelly states, with emphasis, that he shall not make any further statement:—

NEW YORK, Oct. 1, 1874.

To WILLIAM F. HAVEMEYER, Mayor of the City of New York:—

SIR—On the 15th of September last a letter from you was published in the newspapers of the city, in which you endeavor to relieve yourself from the severe and merited censure passed upon you by the Governor for your own improper conduct in office by casting wholesale aspersions upon all who have been in any way concerned as complainant, counsel or witness in the proceedings against yourself or against the convicted Police Commissioners (which you seem to regard also as directed against yourself), and assert that the whole matter has sprung from my personal enmity to you, and that I am "a very dishonest man," possessing "an audacity born of a low beginning," and having the "vindictive feelings of men of your (my) class." With those who know me no assertion that you can make, and particularly nothing that you may say in the disgraced position you now occupy before the public will affect my character. Yet the charges you make are so grave, particularly when made over the signature of the Mayor of this great city, that I feel imperatively called upon to make a reply for the purpose of vindicating myself before such of the public as may not know me personally at an earlier date than the slow progress of the law will allow.

Passing by for the present the various personal innuendoes and aspersions with which your letter is filled, your first grave charge against me is that I "have defrauded this city and county out of large sums of money, and have been guilty of a crime that is adequately described by the term felonious." In proof of this fact you assert that in my reports to the Secretary of State of the number of convictions in the county of New York "during your (my) six years of office you (I) reported 113,090 convictions in this county, while the clerk only reported 20,886. In other words, that your (my) eyes, keenly directed moneyward, were able to discern 92,204 convictions that the records of the courts did not mention;" and to substantiate this charge you give the following table:—

	—Sheriff's Report.—			—Clerk's Report.—
	Courts of Record.	Courts of Special Sessions.	Total.	Courts of Record.	Courts of Special Sessions.	Total.
1859	665	18,020	18,685	705	2,818	3,523
1860	603	20,937	21,540	474	2,778	3,252
1861	690	23,026	23,716	651	3,345	3,996
1865	679	13,601	14,280	678	2,782	3,460
1866	646	14,174	14,820	653	2,506	3,159
1867	650	19,399	20,049	669	2,827	3,496
Totals	3,933	109,157	113,090	3,830	17,056	20,886

This you assert to be "a "flagrant crime." You also allege that it is aggravated by the law being violated in my not returning the names of those convicted in courts of record, and disregarding that provision as to "the enormous number reported for the Special Sessions, in respect to which you (I) only gave the total number each month."

THE REPORTS OF CONVICTIONS.

You then proceed to an additional and even graver charge, that while my reports of convictions to the Secretary of State were thus fraudulently swollen to enormous proportions, yet that "you (I) collected pay for 6,353 more convictions than you (I) reported," substantiating the charge by the following table:—

	—Charges in Sheriff's Bills.—			—Courts of Record.—
	Courts of Record.	Special Sessions.	Total.	Courts of Record.	Special Sessions.	Total.
1859	—	—	19,940	728	2,864	3,592
1860	—	—	23,311	677	3,017	3,694
1861	—	—	25,318	685	3,422	4,107
Totals	—	—	68,569	2,090	9,303	11,393
1865	3,461	10,810	14,271	698	2,900	3,598
1866	3,642	13,605	17,247	786	2,946	3,732
1867	3,319	16,847	20,166	627	2,889	3,516
Totals	10,422	41,262	51,684	2,111	8,735	10,846
Add 1859, 1860 and 1861			68,569	2,090	9,303	11,393
Grand totals			120,253	4,201	18,038	22,239

You then assert that the amount of money you (I) pocketed by this shameless fraud is as follows:—

For the three years of your first term you (I) charged and received pay for reporting convictions to the Secretary of State	68,569
The records of the Court show that during those years there were only convictions	11,393
The excess reported by you (me) being	57,176
To which must be added the excess of convictions charged by you (me) during your second term, at fifty cents, over the number shown by the Court record—
Charged by you (me)	10,422
Shown by Court record	2,111
Being an excess of	8,311
Making a total excess of	65,487
Which, at fifty cents each, amounts to	$32,743 50
From which must be deducted the amount taken off by the Board of Supervisors from one of your monthly bills, as will be hereafter explained	2,550 00
Leaving a balance of	$30,193 50
To which add the amount received for excess of minor convictions charged by you (me)	41,262
Shown by Court records	8,735
Excess	32,527
Which, at twelve and one-half cents each, amounts to	$4,065 87
Making the total amount which you (I) fraudulently received	$34,259 37

Stating, however, "that this sum may be subject to a deduction of a few hundred dollars" for convictions in police courts, not included in the clerk's report.

These charges I assert to be base and malicious falsehoods, and which you and Nelson J. Waterbury, your assistant in preparing them, must have known to be such at the time they were written.

WHAT THE TRUTH IS.

The truth in regard to the matter is as follows:—By section 4 of the act of April 26, 1839, the Sheriff of each county was required to report to the Secretary of State the name, occupation, sex, native country, &c., of all persons convicted in any criminal courts of record of his county. By section 5 similar reports were to be made by the Sheriff of the city and county of New York of convictions in any Court of Special Sessions of that city, by the Sheriff of Monroe of convictions in any criminal court in the city of Rochester, by the Sheriff of Kings of convictions in any criminal court of the city of Brooklyn, by the Sheriff of Erie of convictions in any criminal court in the city of Buffalo; and by section 6 all justices and other judicial officers were required to furnish the required information to the Sheriff. The object of this law, as defined to the Secretary of State in a circular for the information of Sheriffs, issued long before my election to that office, was, "to obtain such accurate statistical information concerning convicts and crimes as may guide intelligent legislation. For other countries such information has been found eminently useful in developing the sources of crime and indicating the means of prevention."

It will readily be seen that to make these statistics of any value they must be uniform, and that it would be absurd to require returns from "all criminal courts" in the cities of Rochester, Brooklyn and Buffalo, and omit the great city of New York. For this reason the practice was established, long before I first became Sheriff, for that officer to collect and return to the Secretary of State the convictions in the different police courts of the city, and include them in the column headed "Convictions at Special Sessions," a practice which your own letter shows was known to the Supervisors when passing my bills. In fact, the number was so great, being nearly ten time all the other courts, that it could not be otherwise than apparent to both them and the Secretary of State. The number of these convictions, as will be hereafter shown, was enormous. Each yearly statement of them, incorporating the particulars specified by statute, constituted a volume larger than a bank ledger. At the same time the offences were of a similar and not aggravated character, such as disorderly conduct, vagrancy, &c., &c., as to which the names of the criminals were unimportant, although I took from the records of each police court the name, age, native country, degree of education, religious instruction, former conviction, &c., &c., of each person convicted, and filed the same in my office. For this reason, as I am informed at Albany, for the convenience of the Secretary of State, the practice sprung up (first introduced, I believe, by Sheriff Willett, my predecessor) of forwarding a tabular statement only of this class of convictions, and retaining the detailed and bulky returns in the Sheriff's office.

That this practice was in accordance with the intention of the Legislature was conclusively shown by the passage of the act of March 29, 1861, by which it was provided:—

WHAT THE LAW IS.

"SECTION 5.—The respective Sheriffs of the counties of Albany, Cayuga, Columbia, Dutchess, Erie, Kings, Monroe, New York, Oneida, Onondaga, Oswego, Rensselaer and Schenectady shall, on the first day of every month, transmit to the Secretary of State a statement of the number of persons convicted in Courts of Special Sessions during the preceding month in the respective cities of Albany, Auburn, Brooklyn, Buffalo, Hudson, New York, Oswego, Rochester, Poughkeepsie, Syracuse, Schenectady, Troy and Utica. Such statements shall specify the crimes, the whole number convicted, sex, age, nativity, married or single, degree of education, religious instruction, parents living or dead, whether before convicted or not of any crime, and whether temperate or intemperate. All courts in the city of New York having jurisdiction in cases where criminal convictions are had are hereby, for the purposes of this act, declared Courts of Special Sessions, whether composed of one or more police magistrates." Thus expressly ratifying and continuing the existing practice, and which law has ever since remained in force. By section 6 of this act the Clerk of the General Sessions in the city and county of New York was required to return the convictions had "in the Special Sessions of the said city and county."

Under this law most of the returns were made which are attacked by you as fraudulent. The difference between the names returned by me to the Secretary of State from the various courts, and those for which I was paid, upon which you lay such stress, arises from a very simple circumstance. As above shown, I was specifically required, in my returns to the Secretary of State, to include, under the head of "Convictions at Special Sessions," both the convictions in the regular Special Sessions and those in the various Police Courts. In collecting my compensation from the county, this rule did not apply, and I, therefore, made out my bills according to the fact, specifying under one head the number of convictions in the Oyer and Terminer, the General and Special Sessions, and those in the Police Courts under another. It is true that the Clerk's returns do not accord with my figures. This is for the reason that he construed the law to only require him to return the convictions in the Court of Special Sessions of this county and considered that he was not bound to return those from the police courts. This, however, had nothing to do with me. I had no control over him and was not responsible for his acts. The law made it my duty to go to those police courts and collect these statistics, and I did it honestly and properly.

KELLY'S BILL CORRECT.

My bills for service are strictly correct, but you, in order to malign my character, have desperately garbled the figures which you give as the number of convictions returned by me to the Secretary of State. As a proof of this scandalous conduct upon your part I give in parallel columns the convictions as you say I reported them to the Secretary of State, and those which are actually found in the office of that officer at Albany, as appears by his official certificate hereto annexed:—

	—Havemeyer's Stat't.—			—Sec'y of State Certificate.—
	Court of Records.	Special Sessions.	Total.	General Sessions.	Oyer and Term'r.	Special Sessions.	Total.
1859	665	18,020	18,685	671	8	19,261	19,940
1860	603	20,937	21,540	586	54	22,652	23,292
1861	690	23,026	23,716	674	12	24,654	25,340
1865	679	13,601	14,280	678	4	13,601	14,283
1866	646	14,174	14,820	770	4	16,565	17,339
1867	650	19,399	20,049	603	10	19,552	20,165
	3,933	109,157	113,090	3,982	92	116,285	120,359

From this it appears that, for your own base and vindictive purposes, you have falsely placed the number of convictions returned by me below the real number, as follows:—

	—Amount actually returned by me.— Courts of Record.	Special Sessions.
Oyer and Terminer	92
General Sessions	3,982	116,285
	4,074
Amount stated by you	3,933	109,157
Difference between your statement and the truth	141	7,128
Total		7,269

This statement of my returns, as certified to by the Secretary of State, conforms in all respects to my charges, which I find by my bills were as follows:—

1859—Returns for quarter ending April 1	4,113
Returns for quarter ending June 30	4,911
Returns for quarter ending September 30	6,320
Returns for quarter ending December 31	4,596
Total	19,940
1860—Returns for quarter ending March 31	4,205
Returns for quarter ending June 30	6,055
Returns for quarter-ending September 30	7,553
Returns for quarter ending January 1	5,423
Total	23,319
1861—Returns for quarter ending April 1	5,631
Returns for quarter ending July 1	6,551
Returns for quarter ending October 1	7,194
Returns for quarter ending December 31	5,942
Total	25,318

The number for 1859 being exactly what I returned, and those of the two following years aggregating slightly less than the number I returned.

THE POLICE COURT RETURNS.

After 1861, the compensation for returns from Police Courts having been reduced to 12½ cents, while that for returns from the other criminal courts remained at fifty cents, the price previously paid for both, my bills were necessarily divided. These have already been published in the Times of September 17, 1874, probably at your instance, and although they contain many errors in copying, as to other items, as far as this matter is concerned, were, I believe, correctly printed. By reference to these it will plainly appear that while the vast majority of names returned by me to the Secretary of State as having been convicted in the Special Sessions were really convicted in the Police Courts, and were only included in the return of convictions at Special Sessions to comply with the provisions of the act of 1861, declaring that for this purpose the Police Courts should be deemed Courts of Special Sessions, yet that in making out my bills I was careful to make a distinction between them. For convenience of reference I give the following summary of these bills:—

	General and Special Sessions.	Police Courts.
1865.—Quarter ending—
March 31	566	1,748
June 30	795	2,257
September 30	1,163	3,545
December 31	937	3,260

You were familiar with these bills. In fact you borrowed them from the Comptroller in August last, and I believe still have them in your possession. You were familiar with the act of 1861, for you expressly refer to it in your letter, and yet you have the mendacious audacity to ignore the existence of any convictions being returned or charged for from Police Courts, and by branding me as having returned 10,422 convictions from the Courts of Record and 109,157 from the Special Sessions, strictly so called, and publishing the convictions in the two latter Courts alone as being but 22,239, assert and claim that you have proved the difference, amounting to 68,014, is fraudulent. The scandalous character of this statement can be best understood by the following comparison between the charges contained in my bills during the years 1865, 1866 and 1867 (when these convictions were, for the first time, separated), and the figures you give as obtained from the records:—

A SHAMELESS FRAUD.

In this connection it may be well to call your attention to a "shameless fraud" upon your part in regard to these figures. You expressly refer to the resolution of the Supervisors, fixing the Sheriff's compensation "at fifty cents for convictions reported from the Oyer and Terminer, and General and Special Sessions," and by the preceding figures show that, according to your own computations from the records of these Courts, I was entitled to charge for 10,846 convictions during the years 1865, 1866 and 1867. Yet, in spite of this, you insert the following in your table under the head "Amount of Plunder," viz.:—"Excess of convictions charged by you (me) during your (my) second term, at fifty cents over the number shown by the court records:—"

Charged by you (me)	$10,422
Shown by Court records	2,111
Being an excess of	8,311

Although, in order to do this, you have to omit entirely the convictions in the Special Sessions, which your own letter concedes I am entitled to charge for, and which your own figures show amount to 8,735, and thus endeavor to convince the public that I have swindled the county by overcharging for 8,311 convictions at fifty cents each, whereas a comparison of my bills with your figures show that I have charged for 424 less convictions than, according to the records of the Courts, I was entitled to.

In addition, you put down as "excess of minor convictions received by you (me) being those in the—

Police Courts	41,262
Shown by court records	8,735
Excess	35,227

which, at twelve and a half cents each, amounts to $4,065 87," and assert that this is a "fraud" on my part.

In other words, you take the 8,735 convictions, which your own table shows were rendered in the Special Sessions, and for which you admit I was entitled to charge fifty cents each, and assume that they, and they only, are the returns for the police courts, for which my charge was 12½ cents each, and upon this basis assert that I have made an overcharge of 35,227 convictions, although in every one of my bills, during my second term, the charges for the returns from the Special Sessions were distinctly separated from those for the police courts. The only recognition you give to the existence of such a thing as a police court at all, is your statement that "a few of the minor convictions in the police courts may not be included," and that a deduction of a few hundred dollars for convictions in police courts may possibly be allowed me.

MAYOR HAVEMEYER KNEW BETTER.

You knew better than that when you wrote it. You cannot have lived as long as you have in the city of New York without knowing that there are almost ten times as many convictions in police courts as in the Oyer and Terminer and General and Special Sessions combined. Why, the police arrests in the city of New York during the period you refer to were as follows:—

Year ending October 31, 1859	68,896
Year ending October 31, 1860	65,809
Year ending October 31, 1861	71,130
Total during my first term		205,835
Year ending October 31, 1865	68,873
Year ending October 31, 1866	75,630
Year ending October 31, 1867	80,532
Total during my second term		235,035
Grand total		440,360

Where were the petty offences that constituted the vast majority of these cases tried, if not in the Police Courts? You would fain have the public believe that the total convictions in the criminal courts of the city of New York during the years 1859, '60, '61, '65, '66 and '67 were but 22,239. In fact, you say there "cannot be many" more, and are only willing to allow me a few hundred dollars for collecting the statistics required by the statute and returning them to the Secretary of State.

A COMPARISON WITH BROOKLYN.

Yet in the neighboring city of Brooklyn the convictions, as reported by the different Sheriffs of that county, compared with mine, were as follows:—

	Courts of Record.	Special Sessions.
1859	No return.	11,039
1860	357	13,096
1865	92	24,694
1866	51	16,435
1867	218	14,434
Totals	718	79,688

Being about twice what you allow for New York, although the latter contains a vastly greater and more turbulent population. Why you should have been guilty of so grossly misstating the facts in regard to this matter is a mystery, particularly as the truth could have been ascertained without very great difficulty. From the fact that you, although professing to be a "life-long democrat," "an earnest supporter of Silas Wright, Samuel Young and Michael Hoffman," should speak of my having a "low beginning" and of "my class," that you cannot distinguish between an attempt to punish Police Commissioners who have violated the election law and made a personal attack upon yourself, and from your general extraordinary conduct while in office, I should judge that your mind must be somewhat affected. Yet your letter shows such ability in collecting and distorting facts, and asserting falsehoods that I am unable to accord to you even this poor excuse, and can only account for it to a combination of malignity, self conceit and bad advice. You next attack me because, in my returns of convictions from the police courts (which are included under the head of "returns from the Special Sessions," as above stated) I placed the proportion of females, as regards males, and of Irish, in respect to natives of other countries, much higher than I did in my returns of convictions from Courts of Record, and give as a reason that I "manufactured the statistics," the assertion being made with the particular view to injure me in the estimation of the race from which I sprang. If the facts were as you pretend that there were no such names and no such convictions, is it not evident that I would have been particular to make the fraudulent returns conform closely to the genuine, and is not the variance between them in itself a proof of their being correct? But, without arguing the matter, it is enough to say that in this particular, as in every other assertion contained in your letter, you maliciously assert a wilful and deliberate untruth. A chief magistrate of a city like New York, even although he considers it beneath his dignity to read the newspapers, should surely know that females are seldom guilty of the higher grades of crimes, such as are tried in Courts of Record, but that in large cities the number of females convicted of the various description of minor offenses coming under the definition of "disorderly conduct and vagrancy," and which are disposed of in Police Courts, is, unhappily, very large.

THE IRISH BIRTH QUESTION.

The same is the case as to the crimes committed by those of Irish birth. Impulsive and passionate, they are apt to be guilty of disorderly conduct and to be brought before a police court; but the crimes that involve dishonesty or moral turpitude, and which are heard before the higher courts, are much more rare among them. Thus, in the report of the Board of Police for the year ending October 31, 1858, when I was not Sheriff, the total arrests were given as—males, 42,891; females, 18,564. Total, 61,455.

	Males.	Females
Disorderly conduct	5,866	3,145
Intoxication and disorderly conduct	5,817	3,552
Vagrancy	1,244	1,682

And out of 75,373 persons arrested in that year in New York, and the preceding nine months in Brooklyn, 44,587 are reported as born in Ireland. As a further instance to the same effect, by the report of the Commissioners of Charities, it appears that the total commitments to the institutions under their charge during 1867, were 47,133, of which 17,850 were males and 12,606 females, and 21,079 were of Irish birth. The following table, taken from the official reports of the Secretary of State, shows that the same rule applies to the county of Kings:—

	—Convictions in all the County— Courts of Record.				—Convictions in the Special Sessions in Brooklyn only.—
	Males.	F'm's.	Irish.	Total.	Males.	F'm's.	Irish.	Total.
1859	No report of Sheriff.				7,649	3,390	4,879	11,039
1860	348	9	108	357	9,568	3,528	2,687	13,096
1865	72	20	27	92	15,971	8,718	6,075	24,694
1866	140	16	51	156	10,576	5,849	4,550	16,452

In conclusion I would state that while I am as conscious as any one of the obligation which I owe to those of my race, that they would be the last to ask or expect me to falsify the records to conceal a fact. Your next attack is for overcharge in conveying prisoners. As in your assertions in relation to the returns to the Secretary of State, you in this matter practically omit the persons committed from the police courts, although you pretend to give them. During my first term you admit that I charged for 448 less than I was entitled to. In my second term, however, you allege there was an enormous overcharge, as shown in the following table contained in your letter:—

	General Sessions.	Special Sessions.	Black-well's Island.	House of Refuge.	Committed.	Charged.
1865	254	1,927	550	85	2,316	5,847
1866	265	1,949	19	122	2,355	6,048
1867	186	1,901	19	121	2,226	5,951
Totals	704	5,777	588	328	7,397	17,846
Deduct number committed						7,397
Balance						10,449
Allow additional for police courts						1,000
Number fraudulently charged for						9,449

For the police courts you allow the beggarly number of 1,000, and calmly assert "that that is at least double the actual deficiency."

THE HOUSE OF REFUGE.

The figures you give in regard to the House of Refuge are of course all wrong; I have in my possession an official certificate of the prisoners received at the House of Refuge, of which the following is an abstract:—

	1865.	1866.	1867.	Total.
Number received	410	479	383	1,273

The aggregate you put in your table for this period is 328. The reason for this, as I am informed, is that when on September 3 you wrote to the institution for their figures you only asked for the number of boys committed, being apparently in ignorance that the institution received both girls and boys, but even here you have blundered in your figures. The following is a statement taken from my books, showing the number of prisoners who were convicted during my last term, and who were committed to the Sheriff to be conveyed, and were conveyed to the places to which they were sentenced:—

	Penitentiary.	House of Refuge.	Juvenile Asylum.	Work-house.	City Prison.	Total.
1865	1,670	436	538	3,025	324	5,993
1866	1,982	478	544	3,503	189	6,696
1867	1,693	359	715	3,182	171	6,120
Totals	5,345	1,273	1,797	9,710	684	18,809

The evidence of these commitments are in my possession. I have receipts for those sent to the Penitentiary and House of Refuge. In addition it appears by the report of the Commissioners of Charities and Correction that the following persons were received by them during this period:—

	Warden of Penitentiary.	Work-house.
1865	1,370	11,113
1866	1,978	12,411
1867	2,315	15,000
Totals	5,663	38,524

My charge was based upon the number of those who after conviction were placed by law in my custody as Sheriff, and for none other. They were carried by my deputy and I was responsible for them and entitled to charge for their conveyance.

THE CONVEYANCE FEES.

The largest number of these prisoners were convicted by the police courts, and your fixing the number at 1,000 would be preposterous if it was not stated maliciously. One word as to my fees for this service. You admit that long before my accession to office compensation of the Sheriff for carrying prisoners had been fixed at seventy-five cents each, the amount which I received during my first term, but that during my second term, "without the slightest warrant from any source," I had the audacity to charge double the previous large rate, and received $1 50 for each prisoner—a rate which two years and three months afterward I increased to $1 75. As you state you "are no lawyer," you seem to consider yourself free to make any assertions in regard to the law which may strike your fancy. It is certainly singular that you should be the first to discover that the Board of Supervisors, in auditing Sheriff's bills, as they have done for many years without any question, were exercising a power not authorized by law; but then you are celebrated for doing singular things. In fact, it would appear from the blunders you make in your quotations from the statutes and allusions to decisions not to be found in the books, that you have prepared yourself for your attack on me by the perusal of some such work as "Every Man His Own Lawyer." Probably if you had conferred with a lawyer before taking such a step, he would have suggested to you the proverb that "he who is his own lawyer has a fool for his client."

THE LAW AS TO SHERIFF'S FEES.

The following is a brief statement of the law in regard to the fees of the sheriff:—

By the Revised Statutes (1 Edmonds, p. 357) it is provided that the following shall be county charges:—"2. The compensations of sheriffs for the commitment and discharge of prisoners in criminal processes. * * * 5. * * * reasonable compensation to constables and other officers for executing process on persons charged with criminal offences, for services and expenses in conveying prisoners to jail * * * and for other services in relation to criminal proceedings for which no specific compensation is prescribed by law. 6. The expenses incurred for the support of persons charged or convicted of crime. * * * 7. Moneys necessarily expended by any county officer in executing the duties of his office in cases in which no specific compensation is provided by law." Such accounts to be presented to the Board of Supervisors and audited by them. Also (2 Edmonds' R. S., 665)—For giving notice of any general or special election, $1 for each town or ward in the county, and the expense of publishing; for any services which may be rendered by a constable, the same fees as are allowed by law for such services to a constable; for summoning constables to attend the Supreme Court or any other court, fifty cents for each constable. Also (2 Id., 778)—For every person committed to prison, thirty-seven and a half cents, and a like sum for each person discharged; for summoning a Grand Jury, $10; for conveying prisoners to House of Refuge, such sum as shall be allowed by the Supervisors. (Laws of 1859, chap. 254, p. 553.)

"The Board of Supervisors may allow such further compensation for the service of process, &c., as they may deem reasonable. For other services in criminal cases, for which no compensation is specially prescribed by law, such sum as the Board of Supervisors of the county may allow."

THE SUMMONING OF JURORS.

The Revised Statutes, part 3, chapter 7, title 4, article 2, section 21 (p. 698, 5th Edmonds), provide for the summoning of jurors by the officers now required by law to serve them. Sections 96 and 109 (p. 716) make this the duty of the Sheriff not only in criminal, but in civil cases, specifying the Circuit Court, Superior Court, Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions. Section 110 also makes this the Sheriff's duty. No statutory rate seems to be fixed for this service. The sum of fifty cents to be collected of the attorney (3 R. S. 295; 5 Edmonds), cannot be the only compensation contemplated, as the Sheriff is also to summon jurors for the Oyer and Terminer and General Sessions, and if he is entitled to charge for one he is for the other. His compensation, therefore, is to be fixed, audited and allowed by the Board of Supervisors, as they have done for the past thirty years, under the powers given them. (1 R. S., 848, 855, 3 R. S., p. 1,046, sec. 2.) In the case of the Supervisors of Onondaga vs. Briggs (2 Denio., 41.), where a District Attorney was charged with procuring from the Supervisors fees not authorized by law, Chief Justice Bronson held that "for certain services the Legislature has given to officers a specified fee, and they are forbidden to take more. But when no fee has been prescribed by law the Legislature has not undertaken to say how much or how little shall be charged for any service which may be rentered." In the case of the People ex rel. Hilton, against the Supervisors of Albany County (12 Wendell's Rep., p. 257), it was decided that when any duty was imposed upon a county officer by the Legislature he was entitled to a reasonable compensation, to be audited by the Board of Supervisors. Chief Justice Savage said:—"The performance of the duty may be, and generally must be, attended with expense, and there is no reason why the officer should lose both his time and his money without just compensation. It is very probable, too, that the reason why no fixed sum was given was that the Legislature knew the principle upon which the courts had acted, and thought that justice would be better done by leaving the amount of the compensation to the Supervisors than by giving a gross sum, which in some cases might be liberal and in others totally inadequate," following the rule laid down in Bright vs. Supervisors of Chenango County, (18 Johnson's Rep., 214.) In the very case of People ex rel. Hall vs. Supervisors of New York (32 N. Y., 475), where the county was held liable for my fees for serving the papers in Waterbury's excise cases, the Court of Appeals held that each county was chargeable, in the absence of any provision for specific compensation, with the moneys necessarily expended by any county officer in executing the duties of his office, and that expenditures were necessary when they were reasonable, appropriate and customary in the discharge of the particular official duty.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

When my bills were sent in to the Board of Supervisors either I or my under sheriff invariably went before them and explained the different charges contained in them, so that in auditing my claims they knew exactly what they were founded upon. As was decided by Judge Bronson in Supervisors of Onondaga County vs. Briggs, above mentioned, they were appointed for the purpose of deciding whether the charges came within the statute, and their determination is a conclusive adjudication upon the point. I indignantly deny the insinuation that I was in collusion with the Supervisors, or any of them, at any time, or that I used any improper influences to procure payment of my bills, and defy you or any one else to produce the slightest proof of it. The deduction of $2,550 from my bill for September 30, 1860, was made because the records of the convictions from the lower Courts had not been filed with the Clerk of the General Sessions, a matter over which I had no control. The position which you take in regard to the construction of section 9 of title 8, chapter 2, Part IV. of the Revised Statutes (2 Edmonds, 777 et seq.), quoted by you at length, is erroneous. The "preceding sections" therein mentioned have no reference to Sheriff, consequently that section has no effect. Your position that there is no authority for the payment by the Board of Supervisors of the Sheriff's bills of this county for these services is ridiculous. The practice, as you yourself admit, has lasted in most instances for over thirty years, and existed throughout the State. It is not only sanctioned by long usage, but is the fair and reasonable construction of the law, and it will take something more than your mere assertion to establish the contrary. The reason why an increased compensation was allowed was obvious. The fee of seventy-five cents was fixed thirty-four years previously. In the meantime values had changed greatly. Thirty-four years ago the Mayor's salary was about $2,000; now I believe your various salaries amount to some $12,000. Labor that in 1831 cost but $1 in 1865 commanded five times that sum. For the conveyance of some of these prisoners I paid to my deputy as high as $1 each; and the Supervisors accordingly raised the compensation, as they had a legal right to do. So far from being exorbitant, the rate paid by the State for all prisoners conveyed to Blackwell's Island upon convictions exceeding a year was $2 60 for each prisoner. In regard to my charges for commitments and discharge of prisoners, upon which you lay such stress, the facts are as follows:—

THE COMPTROLLER TROUBLE.

Upon my first election as Sheriff I was advised by my counsel that I was entitled to make this charge, as had been done by my predecessor. Under this advice I inserted the charge in my bill, which was paid by Comptroller Haws. Upon the presentation of my next bill the Comptroller declined to pay this item, acting under the advice of counsel. I took the payment of the remainder under protest, but finally, as I wanted nothing about which a fair question could be raised, decided that I would not insert it again in my bills, although my counsel were positive in their opinion that it was a charge I was entitled to make. My successor, Mr. Lynch, regularly inserted this charge in his bills during his term of office. Mr. Haws declined to pay him as he had me, and Lynch took the money under protest. Subsequently he succeeded in recovering the money from the county, thus receiving payment for the whole amount, some $51,000. If I had done this—and there was no reason why I should not—I should have received at least $100,000 more from the county than I actually did.

THE PETIT LARCENY CHARGE.

You are pleased to assert that I have been guilty of petit larceny in charging fifty cents for summoning constables to attend the sessions of the Oyer and Terminer. It is hardly necessary to state that you are wrong in regard to every detail in this matter also. The Court of Oyer and Terminer is not a continuous court, but only meets at intervals. The law provides that the Sheriff shall summon constables to attend it, and fixes their compensation at $1 50 a day and his at fifty cents for each man he summons. The Court specifies the number required and the Sheriff has to furnish them. As there were no constables in New York while I was Sheriff I had to find men; and to insure some responsibility upon their part, as well as to give them the necessary power, I made them special deputies. This was no innovation upon my part, but had been for years the practice of my predecessors, Orser and Willett, and warranted by law. No one but yourself would attempt to stigmatize it as a fraud, and you know you are not telling the truth when you say so. You make as a further charge against me that I have, without authority of law or usage, overcharged $24 25 for serving notices upon newspapers. Without going into particulars into the matter I assert that my bills were correct in all respects and warranted by law, and would refer you to 3 R. S., sec. 3, 926, chap. 480, Laws 1860, p. 597; Crocker on Sheriffs, 1,107; People ex rel. Hilton vs. Supervisors of Albany, 12 Wend., 257.

SUMMONING PETIT JURORS.

Your next attack upon me is in relation to my charges for summoning petit jurors. Here also, although no lawyer, you have no hesitation in asserting that no provision of law whatever exists for compensation in such cases, although you admit that ever since 1843 the power has been regularly exercised by the Board of Supervisors, who have allowed $10 for each panel (then consisting of thirty-six and since increased to fifty) and twenty-five cents each for extra jurors. As you make no charge against me for my fees for summoning petit jurors for the Marine Court because it was done by my predecessor, although you assert his action to have been "a clear robbery of the County Treasury," I will pass by that with the single remark that my conduct in this particular was based upon a written opinion by eminent counsel, still in my possession, and dated April 29, 1859. You admit, however, that although my predecessor charged fifty cents for this service I charged but thirty and in 1867 thirty-five cents. For your caution in this respect you more than make up when you come to speak of the jurors summoned for the Oyer and Terminer, and particularly of "extra jurors." As to the latter, you assert "that of the 63,601 extra jurors for which I was paid during my two terms of office "not one of them had any existence, and the charge for them was merely a barefaced fraud." This I indignantly denounce as a barefaced falsehood. Every juror for whom I charged was regularly drawn, and I stand prepared to produce his name. Under the wholesale system of excuses prevalent in the courts prior to 1870 the first panel of jurors was soon exhausted in civil as well as in criminal courts. An "extra panel" would then be ordered, returnable sometimes the very next day. These had to be summoned often in great haste, the entire force of my office being frequently at work until late at night. Yet you confine your statements as to the jurors for which I was entitled to charge for the General Sessions of Oyer and Terminer and Marine Court, and, with your usual facility for blundering, omit all reference to the various civil courts, as if they never had any jurors. I have a certificate from the County Clerk that the books in his office are defective as to petit jurors summoned in 1859, 1860 and 1861. The panels in the office of the Commissioner of Jurors for the entire jury year, which runs from October to October, for some courts are also defective; consequently the figures you have obtained from these offices are utterly worthless as evidence as to the number of jurors drawn by me. I have in my books copies of all panels drawn by me, with the name and residence of each juror and how he was served. The following is a table of the number of panels, as well as petit jurors summoned and charged for by me in 1865, 1866 and 1867, and also of those appearing by the records of the County Clerk, as certified by him:—

DRAWN AND CHARGED BY ME.
Panels of grand jurors	70
Panels of petit jurors	562
Total panels	632
Number of petit jurors	63,096
CERTIFIED TO BY COUNTY CLERK.
Panels of grand jurors	71
Panels of petit jurors	566
Total panels	637
Number of petit jurors	63,592

THE GRAND JURY CHARGE.

This disposes of about all your allegations in regard to jurors. Your assertion that a Sheriff can only charge for a Grand Jury, not a panel, is without authority. By order of the Court the Sheriff summons thirty-six men to serve as Grand Jurors, for which he is paid $10. If the legal number are not sworn in, either because they are excused by the presiding Judge or do not attend, the Court orders the Sheriff to summon a new panel. Can there be any doubt that he is entitled to be paid for doing so? Certainly no one but yourself ever thought there was any question about it. These charges were the same in all respects as made by my predecessor, with the exception that in 1867, the last year I was in office, the Board of Supervisors increased the compensation from thirty to thirty-five cents, which, as it occurred when Connolly was Comptroller, you attempt to insinuate was done through him, although you cannot but know he had nothing to do with it. In regard to the statute referred to in your letter as to paying for jurors not personally served, as usual you have misquoted its provisions. While the act of 1853 makes it the duty of all clerks of courts to certify to the Supervisors when the majority of a panel is not personally served, and in which case only no fees are to be allowed the Sheriff, the act has always been construed to apply only to the criminal courts, and, according to the best information I can obtain, there is no instance known where any clerk of any court but the General Sessions and Oyer and Terminer has made such a report. In the case of the regular panels, when the full time was given to the Sheriff, a majority of the jurors were invariably personally served. But in the haste required in summoning extra jurors it was impossible to make personal service, although the fee received by the deputies employed was double when personal service was made, having been increased by me for this purpose. This was not the Sheriff's fault, for he was but obeying the orders of the Court, and, as this was well known, the stringent rule of the statute was not enforced. I have not charged for 713 more panels, as you allege, or for any other number than were drawn. You have omitted from your statement the panels actually drawn for the Civil Courts.

THE EXECUTION FEES.

You also wilfully misrepresent me in regard to my charges for capital executions in my second term of office, as compared with my first. A great deal of the difference arises from the great increase of values caused by the war. For the same scaffold, which includes a large platform and partition, that cost $32 77 in 1860, I paid Samuel Atkinson $191 07 in 1867, for which I have his receipt, as I have for all the other disbursements charged for in my bills, and which you and the public can inspect at any time at my office. My charge for the board of prisoners is open to no criticism. Many of these remained on my hands for a long time after their sentence—Friery for a year and a half, Ferris a little longer, O'Brien for nine months and Wagner for seven. During this period it was customary, as it was humane, to allow them better food than ordinary prison fare. I paid Mrs. Foster, the Prison Matron $1 a day each for their board, for which I have her receipts, the following being a table of the amounts paid for and during each quarter:—

These men could not be trusted with razors, and they were therefore shaved by a barber, and the bills presented to and paid by me monthly, which accounts for the charge under that head. From the suicide of McDonald and attempted suicide of Gordon I established the practice of watching each prisoner day and night for twelve days before his execution, which accounts for my charge for watchers. For myself I was compelled, in addition to attending the execution, to remain in court during the trial, on one occasion being obliged to be there every day for several weeks and to visit the prison frequently. The charge I made for my own fee was less than Sheriffs in other counties were charging, and the Board of Supervisors, in whose discretion the whole matter was placed by law—a fact as to which you seem to be in ignorance—in auditing my bills decided them to be proper. Would any reasonable man say the charge was too much? You do not appear to agree with the Legislature as to the necessity of there being any jurors or witnesses summoned to witness any execution, and therefore assert that because, in accordance with the requirements of the law, I did summon them, as all Sheriffs do, it was a fraud for me to charge for the service. The law, you assert, says the Sheriff shall "invite" certain officials and other parties to be present. That there are many who are eager to be present, and therefore he has no right to charge for his services. Does it not seem to you that this proposition is hardly strong enough to base a charge of fraud upon?

THE EXCISE SUITS.

As to my charges for services in serving the papers in the excise suits, this is a matter with which your assistant, Nelson J. Waterbury, who is using you to pull his chestnuts out of the fire, is quite familiar. He was District Attorney at the time the most of them were commenced, and brought them to advance his own personal ends—a motive which, as is well known, controls nearly everything he does. He brought these papers to my office in large bundles, and embarrassed my business so much that I at one time peremptorily refused to serve them. He insisted that it was my duty, as Sheriff, to do so, and I was compelled to, paying for the services out of my own pocket. The propriety of the payment of the fees for these services having been disputed, a suit was brought, which was carried to the Court of Appeals and is reported in "People vs. Supervisors of New York" (32 New York Rep., 473). The Court of Appeals decided that the charges, not the payment therefor, was legal and proper. The idea which you have of the vast emoluments of the office of Sheriff is erroneous. If, as you state, the Sheriff was to look alone to his fees in civil cases for his compensation there would be very few candidates for the position, and those elected would soon be bankrupt. The Sheriff is obliged by law to perform certain services, in which he incurs very heavy responsibilities, and is exposed to an incessant and prolonged litigation. During my two terms there were 770 law suits brought against me, not personally, but in my official character, and not for any negligence or delinquency on my part, but for doing what the law obliged me to do, each involving on the average about $2,000. Of those brought during my first term more than fifty are still alive, as are over a hundred and twenty-five of those brought in my second term. Since the commencement of these actions many of the bondsmen on the indemnity bonds taken by me have become insolvent, and in consequence their responsibility is thrown upon me, and I have been already obliged to pay considerable on that account. For the limit prisoners alone my responsibility for my first term was $319,900; for my second term about $583,500.

THE SHERIFF'S RESPONSIBILITIES.

To sum up, I estimate the responsibilities I had to assume as Sheriff, as follows:—

On limit prisoners	$750,000	to	$1,000,000
On bonds of indemnity	1,500,000	to	2,000,000
Third party claims on replevin	300,000	to	500,000
Totals	$2,550,000	to	$3,500,000

—for which responsibility I received no extra compensation. The expenses of my office, over all allowances from the county, averaged about $24,000 a year. Those of the present Sheriff are set forth in his affidavit, hereto annexed, marked B. The receipts from poundage (two and one-half per cent for sums less than $250 and one and one-quarter per cent on sums exceeding that amount), and upon all other process after deducting the amount paid deputies, did not exceed $10,000 a year during both my terms. For calendar fees and all process paid for by attorneys I received $12,000 a year. From real estate business not over $2,000 on the average. For conveying State convicts I received nothing, the whole amount paid by the State being received by the deputies performing the service. This gives the Sheriff's total income at $24,000, and shows that if it were not for the county bills he could hardly pay the running expenses of his office, while having to bear the immense responsibility thrown upon him by law.

You fix the amount received by me, during both my terms, from the county at	$159,712 73
and state that of this I have "wrongfully" obtained	88,844 82
leaving	$70,867 91

—or less than $12,000 a year as my sole compensation for the enormous responsibilities I had to incur as Sheriff. Let me ask, what business man would incur a liability of $3,500,000, a large part of which, after the expiration of sixteen years, still continues, and which, for three years after my first term and seven years after my second term, has obliged me to maintain an office and clerks for the public accommodation, at an expense of at least $8,000. The foregoing embraces complete answers to the leading facts contained in your charges. They show them to be utterly unfounded, and render it unnecessary that I should allude to the other minor matters contained in your letter, to all of which, however, I here interpose an absolute and unqualified denial. As this letter is not intended for you, but for the public, it is necessary that I should make it as brief as possible, and it has already outgrown my original intention, but your charges have been so elaborate that I was compelled to answer them in detail.

THE PERSONAL ASSAULTS.

I cannot close, however, without alluding to the personal assaults you have made upon me, to which I have not previously referred. If, when you say that I was "born of a low beginning," you mean that my father was a poor man, you are right for about the only time in your lengthy epistle. I have never denied it, and am not ashamed of it. If you desire to insinuate that my parents, although poor, were not respectable and honorable, you assert what is not true. In this connection I might ask whether it is not the case that you yourself were not born in affluence, but, in connection with your father followed in your youth the trade of a sugar baker, as I did that of a mason and grate setter, the only difference between us, as I understand your history, being that I built myself up without the aid of my parents, my father having died in my infancy. Born in the city of New York, I have lived here upwards of fifty-two years. During that period I have been elected by my fellow-citizens, once as alderman, twice as a member of Congress, and twice as sheriff. In these positions I have come in contact with a very large number of people, and am very generally known throughout the city, and I defy any one to truthfully say that in any single particular, either as a public officer or as a private citizen, I have ever done anything of which a man of the strictest integrity would not have approved. It is not my habit or desire to speak of myself, nor would I do so were it not forced upon me in my endeavor to defend my character from the base and untruthful insinuations that you have brought against it. But under the circumstances I will state that I solemnly believe that I have lived a life, both as a public officer and as a private citizen, that will cause my memory to be honorably remembered when yours will have been forgotten, or be recalled only by the wicked follies and wrongs of which you have been guilty as a public officer.

NO QUARREL WITH THE MAYOR.

You say that there has been enmity between us, for reasons which you set forth. This is incorrect. I have had no quarrel with you, and have still none. My proceedings against the Police Commissioners were based upon the grounds that they had violated the purity of the elective franchise, and my views in regard to them have been sustained by the Supreme Court and by the Governor. I never claimed that I or Mr. Morrissey should have the absolute right to name one-half the inspectors or poll clerks. I considered and now consider that the organization known as Tammany Hall, being the official representative of the democratic organization of the State, was entitled to name the inspectors and poll clerks required by law to be appointed on behalf of that party, as I conceded the right of the regular organization of the republican party to do the same—a right which was conceded to them by your friends, Charlick and Gardner. You lay great stress upon the character of Sheridan. Are you aware that the removal of Sheridan was but a single one of the crimes which your friends, the Police Commissioners (whom for some extraordinary reason you seem to consider identical with yourself), have committed? Conceding, for the sake of argument, that Sheridan was everything you represent, how is it about the removal of the other inspectors, for which the Grand Jury have indicted these same Commissioners? How did it happen that all those removals were of inspectors representing Tammany Hall? How was it that they were all removed in a single Assembly district, when, too, the contest was doubtful? How was it that they were all removed the night previous to the election, too late for their places to be supplied by their party? And how was it that, in every instance, those who were put in their places were not only men in political opposition to Tammany Hall, but men of bad character, who, while holding these positions, committed frauds upon the ballot box, for which a number of them have since been indicted. This is not a simple assertion, but a fact which you can ascertain by referring to the proper records, and which, in my opinion, effectually disposes of your claim that the removal of Sheridan was a mere error in judgment on the part of Charlick and Gardner, and was the only offence of which they had been guilty. I fear that in the copies you wrote at school (referred to in your letter), the one, "Evil communications corrupt good manners," was omitted, or you would have studiously avoided the bad company of these men and thereby saved a little of your reputation. You state that, "with your strong conviction that the Police Commissioners were the victims of the most iniquitous persecution for selfish and political objects, you could not have respected yourself if you had not stood by them." It is gratifying to know that you do respect yourself for your conduct in this particular, because you are probably the only person in this city who does. The Governor of the State, who, singular to say, is the only individual in any way connected with the proceedings against the Police Commissioners and yourself of whom you have not something derogatory to say, does not entertain the same respect for you that you have for yourself. In deciding your case he expresses the almost universal public sentiment when he speaks of this conduct, upon which you now plume yourself, as "one of those examples of eccentricity with which you have more than once surprised your fellow citizens," and remarks that your desire "to sustain your associate (in which he evidently refers to that gentleman so eminent for his integrity and purity of character, Mr. Oliver Charlick) had led you into devices utterly antagonistic to your general candor and directness of purpose." I think, however, that if the Governor had read your last letter to me he would not have alluded to your candor and directness of purpose. In regard to your assertion as to the source of these charges, the Governor again is correct when he remarks "that among those pressing your removal most urgently were many by whom your election was most strongly advocated, and whom until a recent day were most ardent supporters of your administration." He sums up, as a conclusion, that by your conduct in these particulars, which you seem to consider as exhibiting the best qualities of Solomon and George Washington, "the good name of the city has been tarnished and the dignity of the office of Chief Magistrate compromised." So far from acquitting you, the Governor expressly states that your offences have been such as to warrant your removal, and, as it were, simply suspended sentence upon you in consideration of your age and the brief period you had to serve—a conclusion in which the largest number of the people of this city think he has very grievously erred, and that he has been disinclined to fulfil the strict letter of his duty on account, perhaps, of his being himself a candidate at the coming election.

MORRISSEY, CROKER AND CONNOLLY.

You say pretty severe things in your letter about Mr. Morrissey and Mr. Croker, but neither of them have ever been publicly censured in this manner. Another charge upon which you lay great stress is my intimacy with Richard B. Connolly, and especially as to my efforts to have him elected Comptroller. This is another example of your "eccentricity," or, I might better say, of your perverse and wilful intention to misstate facts. You know perfectly well that Richard B. Connolly was always a protégé of your own; that he was long employed in the Bank of North America, of which you were President; and that he retained your intimacy up to the very day of his arrest, it being mainly at your suggestion and recommendation that he finally resigned his office and appointed the present Comptroller as his deputy, thus showing the influence that you exerted over him. Now, after he has fallen into disgrace, you feign an utter ignorance in regard to him, and seek to transfer to me the burden of being one of his principal friends and supporters.

The truth is that I was strongly opposed to the nomination of Connolly as Comptroller, while you were strongly in his favor. After he had received the nomination the first time I did not oppose his election, as he was the regular nominee of the party to which I belonged. When he was elected the second time I was in Europe. So far from having any particular relations with Connolly I never went into his private office or had any personal communication with him of any kind while he was Comptroller. I went there and collected my bills in the regular way and that was all. Can you say the same?

KELLY'S CONNECTION WITH WATSON.

In regard to Watson you are as much in error in what you say about my connection with him as you are in everything else, which is saying a great deal. You assert that he was brought over from California as a prisoner and was in my custody, and that as soon as he was discharged I took him into my confidence as a clerk. This is utterly false. At the time Watson came from California Orser was Sheriff, and he took him into his employment as collector and gave him his confidence up to the time of his (Orser's) death. After Orser went out of office Watson was retained in the same position by Willett, his successor.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

An Active Stock Market, with Higher Prices.

GOLD 110 1-8.

Foreign Exchange Dull—Railway Mortgages Strong.

WALL STREET,
WEDNESDAY, Sept. 30—6 P. M.

The revival of business has brought out the characteristic elements of current trade. It is instructive to observe that we have lost—suspended, perhaps, would be better—the speculative anxiety of former years. We, as a people, have reached the necessity of liquidation, hence we are not extravagant nor demonstrative.

STOCKS.

The stock market opened strong at an advance of ⅛ to ½ per cent as compared with the closing quotations of yesterday. Lake Shore led in point of activity for a time, some enormous transactions having taken place at 80⅞ to 81. The price, however, declined before the call to 80⅝, and the remainder of the list reacted slightly. At the first board Lake Shore recovered to 80⅞, and some of the other shares advanced sharply. The movement in Lake Shore was generally attributed to the Commodore and his friends, Vanderbilt parties having been free buyers. The old story of a lease to the New York Central was revived. Erie advanced to 36⅜, in sympathy with a rise at London. Cable telegrams to-day state that the engineers' and accountants' reports will be made public about October 10, and this had a tendency to strengthen the stock to-day. There was a sudden and sharp spurt of activity in Northwest, which carried the stock up to 41⅜. Wabash advanced to 35½ and St. Paul to the same figure, with increased dealings. Union Pacific, which has been quiet for a few days past, suddenly became active and advanced to 37⅜. The movement in Union Pacific was a prominent feature of the market after one o'clock. Western Union was also prominent in the dealings after midday, and rose to 80⅞ on rumors that the forthcoming report would be very favorable. Rock Island was strong and advanced to 104⅜. New York Central was quiet at 101⅜ a 101⅝. Hannibal and St. Joseph advanced to 28⅜ and Ohios to 29⅝. Pacific Mail rose to 51⅝, then reacted to 51, and finally rallied to 51⅝ again. At the second board the market was buoyant at the highest prices of the day.

The sales to-day were nearly 375,000, showing that interest is increasing in this market. The following are the operations of the day, ranged to-day between 110 and 110⅛, the highest and lowest prices, opening and closing at 110⅛. Cash gold is certainly in demand, as there were no carrying rates, and from flat as high as 2 per cent was paid for carrying. The customs receipts to-day were $604,000. The Assistant Treasurer paid out to-day $6,000 in redemption of five-twenty bonds and $54,000 on interest account.

GOLD

THE MONEY MARKET

shows no new features. Money can be had for 2 to 2½ per cent on call and 5 to 7 per cent on commercial paper. The receipts from internal revenue since the 1st inst. have been $8,276,300, and it is estimated that to-morrow they will amount to at least $250,000, making a total for the month of $8,526,000, or about $277,070 less than during the corresponding month of last year, when the receipts were $8,803,070. The total receipts for the quarter ending to-morrow will show a surplus of about $320,000 over the corresponding quarter of last year.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

has been disturbed by the prospect of a reversal of our ordinary current account, which passed off, however. The market here yesterday was quoted:—Sterling exchange firm. Prime nominal rates, 4.85 and 4.87; selling rates, 4.84 a 4.84½, and 4.86½ a 4.87. Continental firm. Reichmarks, 95 and 95⅛; cables, 96½ a 96⅝; prime Paris, 5.15⅝ and 5.13¾.

LONDON ADVICES

are disturbed in their reflection of the current market. At five P. M. we have:—Consols, money, 92⅜ a 92½; do., account, 92⅜ a 92½; five-twenty bonds, 1865, old, 108½; five-twenty bonds, 1867, 109⅜; ten-forty bonds, 104⅛; new fives, 104⅛ a 104⅜; Erie, 33⅜ a 33⅝. Market moderately active and firm.

GOVERNMENTS

are quiet, the reticence which the bankers having the new funding process in charge are observing operating to induce restricted dealings. Prices closed last night firm, as follows:—United States currency sixes, 117⅛ a 117⅜; do. sixes, 1881, registered, 117⅛ a 117⅜; do. do., coupons, 118 a 118⅛; do. five-twenties, 1862, registered, 112⅛ a 113; do. do., do., coupons, 112⅛ a 113; do. do., 1864, registered, 114⅛ a 114⅜; do. do., do., coupons, 115⅛ a 115⅜; do. do., 1865, registered, 115⅛ a 115⅜; do. do., do., coupons, 116 a 116⅛; do. do., 1865, new, registered, 115⅛ a 115⅜; do. do., do., coupons, 115⅛ a 115⅜; do. do., 1867, registered, 116 a 116⅛; do. do., do., coupons, 117 117⅛; do. do., 1868, registered, 116⅛ a 116⅜; do. do., do., coupons, 117 a 117⅛; do. ten-forties, registered, 110⅞ a 111⅛; do. do., coupons, 111⅛ a 112; do. fives, 1881, registered, 112⅛ a 112⅜; do. do., do., coupons, 112⅛ a 112⅜.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

Cotton Unsettled and Lower—Flour Firm—Wheat Higher—Corn Irregular, Closing Easy—Oats Dull—Pork Easier—Lard Drooping—Cut Meats Quiet—Freights Steady—Groceries Quiet—Spirits Turpentine Firmer—Rosin Strong—Tar Neglected—Petroleum Firmer—Whiskey Firmer.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 30—6 P. M.

The markets were still irregular. Flour was firm, with a fair demand. Wheat was fairly active for export to Great Britain, with some inquiry for the Continent, and prices were higher, the market closing strong at the advance. Corn was firmer at the opening, but closed dull and easy. Oats were dull, but without decided change. Whiskey was excited and decidedly higher. Pork was dull and easier. Lard was nominal and easier. Freights strong. Cotton, consequent upon the September "corner," was unsettled in value, and prices were quoted ⅛c. off; but business in many instances was at lower prices. "Futures" were 1-16c. off for early months and 1-16c. better for late months. Sugar was inactive, coffee quiet, petroleum sold at better prices, and a good business was done in rosin and spirits turpentine at better figures.

COTTON.—The market for cotton on the spot was unsettled and values were wholly nominal, with a decided downward tendency at the decline of ⅛c. noted below, with some sales at a very marked reduction under a pressure to realize. The demand was light from all sources. "Futures" were 1-16c. lower on early deliveries and 1-16c. higher on remote deliveries. We quote:—

THE COURTS.

The habeas corpus case of the boy James O'Brien, alleged to have been committed by Police Justice Smith without an opportunity to make a defence, came up yesterday in Supreme Court, Chambers. The District Attorney stated that the papers in the office show the allegations of the relator to be untrue, and that he was informed the defendant was examined, and that his mother was a witness for him, and that an alibi was attempted to be proved. Counsel asked for a further adjournment, as he was resolved to have a return of the certiorari from Judge Smith. Judge Donohue adjourned the case to Friday.

Captain Suthill, of the brig Susan Bergen, who was charged by three of his seamen with deserting them at Rio, was yesterday brought before United States Commissioner Shields for examination. After hearing the evidence he was discharged, it appearing that the men were ashore at the time the vessel sailed, having exceeded their leave of absence, and the Captain being compelled to employ other men to discharge their duties.

The Grand Jury of the General Sessions yesterday presented a number of indictments for felonies against prisoners now in the Tombs. Before retiring the foreman said that the Grand Inquest would have a written communication to make to the Court previous to their being discharged, and asked His Honor when it would be his pleasure to receive it. Judge Sutherland replied that he would receive it whenever they presented it, whereupon the Grand Jury left the court room.

Charles Wells was found guilty in the General Sessions yesterday of conspiring with others to commit grand larceny and sentenced to three years' imprisonment—the same punishment previously meted out to his confederates.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

The Excise Cases—Trial of Martin Nachtman Set Down for To-Day.

Before Judge Sutherland.

Shortly after His Honor took his seat on the bench yesterday District Attorney Rollins moved the trial of Martin Nachtman, charged with violating the Excise law.

Mr. John McKeon said that he had had only forty-eight hours' notice and the defendant was in Albany attending some convention. Mr. Rollins replied that, the charge being only a misdemeanor, the trial could proceed in the absence of the accused.

Mr. McKeon urged a postponement of the trial, remarking that a case of that kind ought not to be tried just before election, when both sides wanted to get the temperance and anti-temperance voters. The matter would continue to be discussed in the newspapers, and he moved that the case be put over till the November term.

Mr. Rollins replied, saying that there would be questions of law discussed by the learned counsel, but Mr. Nachtman's presence was not needed. The indictment against the defendant represented a large class of cases of very great importance. Last year the Excise Commissioners received about $500,000 paid to them for licenses; but during the present year there had been a persistent refusal on the part of some 5,000 liquor dealers—of whom Martin Nachtman, who himself was once an excise commissioner, was one—to take any license at all. The result was that the Excise Commissioners had received thus far not more than $150,000, so that if the Excise law were sustained there would be due to them the large sum of $350,000. The peace, order and quiet of the community were dependent upon a speedy settlement of this question.

Mr. A. Oakey Hall, who is associated with Mr. McKeon, suggested that if the case were positively set down for Thursday the Court had better order an extra panel of 500 jurors. This suggestion excited considerable merriment and was thought to be one of Mr. Hall's bits of pleasantry, with which he is wont to enliven the dull formality of legal proceedings, but he informed the District Attorney that the proposed jurors would be subjected to a rigid examination. Judge Sutherland set the case down for this (Thursday) morning, and ordered an extra panel of 100 jurors, which was drawn in the afternoon in the presence of the Judge.

As the September term is nearly at an end, it is doubtful whether this case will be disposed of to-day.

FIFTY-SEVENTH STREET POLICE COURT.

Going Into Pawn Business Without a License—The Court Swindled by Country Sharpers.

Before Judge Sherwood.

Yesterday a bookkeeper in a downtown establishment was arraigned on a charge of intoxication. Not having the $5 imposed upon him as a fine, his watch, which he represented as a gold one, was accepted by the Court as security for its payment. This is the second time that the Court has accepted security for fines, and though it was swindled in the first instance the experience was not sufficient to deter it from a second experiment. Last week two men charged with reckless driving and drunkenness in the Central Park were fined $10 each, and at the request of one of them, who said he was a lawyer from Troy, Judge Sherwood took Mr. King's watch, which he represented to be gold, as security for the payment of the two fines—$20. Neither Mr. King nor his friend has since appeared and the watch still remains in the hands of the Court. On Tuesday Mr. Rockwell, the Chief Clerk of the Court, reminded His Honor of his possession of the watch, and asked what was to be done with it. Judge Sherwood said he did not know, but would like to know what it was worth. Mr. Rockwood said he had been a long time in need of a good timekeeper, and if this turned out to be a good one he would pay the $20 and take it. The Court took his disinterested offer into consideration, and in the meantime the watch was sent to a neighboring watchmaker to ascertain its value. It was oroide and could be bought by wholesale at $96 a dozen and at $10 each at retail. This was worth probably $7, thereby leaving the Court a victim to the tune of $13. The owner of the watch pledged yesterday valued his watch at more than $5 and released it in the afternoon.

ANOTHER BOND SWINDLE.

Raising Money on Encumbered Property—Offering Worthless Bonds—Where is the North Shore Railroad of Long Island?

About two months ago a short, thick-set man called on Mr. Terrench at his office, No. 15 New Church street, and offered him a mortgage on sixteen lots in Newark, N. J., on very favorable terms. Mr. Terrench took the proposition into consideration, and after paying a lawyer, whose name does not appear, $75 for examining the land, the title, &c. was informed by him that the property was good and the speculation a very fine one. Acting on this advice a mortgage for five hundred and some odd dollars was drawn up, and the money paid to the little man, whose name is Joseph Beck. On later investigation Mr. Terrench discovered that the whole property was not worth any more than the mortgage money he had paid on it, as it was fully covered with other mortgages. Recently Beck was informed that his swindle had been found out, and he protested that the mortgage was good, stating to Mr. Terrench that if he did not consider the mortgage a good security he would introduce a man who would be willing to trade good railroad securities for the mortgage. The man was introduced in the person of a Mr. Hess, who said he had bonds of the North Shore Railroad of Long Island which he would exchange for mortgages on such property as he knew Mr. Beck owned. The proposition seemed fair, and Mr. Terrench took the name of the Secretary, as written on one of the bonds which Mr. Hess presented. The name of the Secretary was William H. Lee, and after Mr. Hess had departed Mr. Terrench went around to the office of the North Shore Railroad to inquire about its bonds. At No. 161 Maiden lane Mr. Lee, the Secretary of the North Shore Railroad of Long Island, was asked for. One of the clerks said that the North Shore Railroad of Long Island had no office there, but that the North Shore Railroad Company employed him as a clerk. The secretary's name, he said, was Mr. Thomas Messinger, and he could be seen in the back office. Mr. Terrench had a short conversation with Mr. Messinger, and was satisfied that the bonds which Hess presented were worthless, and that the whole affair was a plan to get the mortgage on Beck's property out of his hands. When Mr. Hess came around yesterday afternoon to conclude the negotiations for the mortgage he was handed over to the custody of Officer Buckrich, together with Mr. Beck, who was near by.

When the prisoners were brought to the Tombs Judge Flammer asked the complainant what proof he had that the bonds were spurious. As evidence, a card on which Mr. Messinger had written a denial of their genuineness was produced. The Judge did not consider it sufficient evidence, so he sent an officer down to No. 161 Maiden lane for Mr. Messinger, who, at about half-past four o'clock, appeared in court. He said he did not know of any such company as the North Shore Railroad of Long Island. He was of belief that such a company had started in 1870, but he had no information of any works or building done by them. During the last four months he said several poor men had called at his office and presented for payment coupons of bonds such as Mr. Terrench had been offered. The parties informed him that they had bought them in good faith from men who pretended to be connected with the road. He did not know the market value of the bonds; in fact he did not think they had any. He was informed that some Long Island men had bought the bonds for a mere song at a sale, and were now selling them for whatever they could get.

On this information Beck and Hess were remanded to the station house. They will be fully examined to-day, when possibly Mr. Hess will be able to show how he came by the bonds and how much he paid on them. At the informal examination yesterday he said he had bought the two bonds which he presented to Mr. Terrench from Mr. Heiche, of No. 132 Broadway, and that he had others which he had purchased elsewhere—from whom he could not remember or when.

It will be remembered that a few days since a man was arrested in Brooklyn, on complaint of a colored man, for passing one of the bonds in exchange for a horse and wagon.

The bonds are elegantly executed, and are, no doubt, for some projected railroad which never became a reality. The coupons, from the date of the bonds to the present quarter, have been cut off, so that at first sight it appears they have all been paid.

TRIPLE SHEET.

New York, Thursday, October 1, 1874.

From our reports this morning the probabilities are that the weather to-day will be partly cloudy and clear.

WALL STREET YESTERDAY.—A continued active stock market; large transactions; prices firm; gold 110¼.

THE PLAGUE is said to have made its appearance in Tripoli and near Mecca. There appears to be some foundation for the rumor, as the authorities at Malta have adopted the strictest quarantine regulations for all vessels coming from the tainted ports.

AND NOW COMES THE CONVENTION at Albany of the State Liquor Dealers' Association. The temporary chairman in his speech referred to the "endeavor to hunt the liquor dealers down," and declared that the time had come "to organize a defence." Well, what are the liquor dealers going to do about it?

THE FINE WEATHER yesterday permitted the National Guard to proceed with the competition for the State and divisional prizes which had to be postponed on Tuesday in consequence of the terrible rain storm which swept over the range. The attendance was large, but owing to the prevalence of a high wind the scoring made was not very good.

THE GERMAN CABINET has been of late directing the attention of the nation toward Asia. It is intended to found a Prussian naval hospital at Yokohama, Japan. This will place the Germans on an equal footing with English and French in this respect. German emigrants have already setttled at Yokohama, and the authorities in Berlin are pleased with the aspect of the new propagandist movement.

A MAN NAMED CARL PROBST WAS KILLED by falling from the roof of a tenement house in this city yesterday. His death was sudden and alarming. The circumstances of the case are surrounded with some share of mystery and appear to require a very searching investigation. Many persons, young and old, have been killed lately in New York by falling to the pavement either from open windows or the roofs of dwellings. Do these sad occurences all come from accident?

AN EQUINOCTIAL CYCLONE.—The full force of the late heavy Atlantic coast storm fell upon Charleston and upon the seaboard between that point and Cape Hatteras. The destruction of the apparently impregnable seawall of the Charleston Battery and the levelling to the earth of the heavy walls of the new theatre in the heart of the city indicate in the late storm there the force of a regular West Indian cyclone. In rebuilding the seawall of their Battery, however, it is to be hoped that the authorities of Charleston will look to their contractors and see to it that their work is not a sham; for we, too, of New York, have the job of a Battery seawall sadly in need of repairs.

Political Morality in High Places.

We welcome what may be called the sense of quickening which seems to have arisen among our public men. We can understand how there might be severe judgments, like, for instance, in the case of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Dawes in the matter of the Crédit Mobilier. The public mind of the country censured these gentlemen for condoning a terrible wrong to the Treasury, if not for taking an actual part in the profits that accrued from it. But the second sense is that the offence was simply heedlessness, and that they should not be censured as we censure Colfax, for having done a deliberate and repeated wrong. At the same time, when men accept the honors and responsibilities of a public career they invite the loftiest criticism, and their duty is to bear themselves so that there shall not merely be an absence of reproach but the absence even of suspicion.

By this canon of criticism let us look into what are called the "revelations" in Louisiana. When Lieutenant Governor Penn was in transient possession of the Louisiana State House he caused its records and papers to be searched, and found, among other things, the correspondence and check book of the fugitive Kellogg. The stubs of the check book showed some suggestive entries, which must cause Kellogg to regret that his flight was so hasty that he could not take away his private papers. The public has been made acquainted with the suspicious entries, but we prefer to await further developments before judging whether the awkward revelations are as damaging as the opponents of the Kellogg usurpation incline to consider them. We do not believe in condemning any man unheard, especially men of influence, authority and fame, who have earned popular confidence and are entitled to patient and respectful consideration. Public attention has been strongly fixed on the heavy retainers paid to Carpenter and Butler for professional services in the Supreme Court when the writ of prohibition was before that tribunal. Shortly after the Durell order Kellogg's counsel, in resisting the issuance of the writ, consisted of Caleb Cushing, Senator Carpenter and General Butler, all of whom appeared in court. Mr. Cushing made a short speech, Mr. Carpenter another short speech, General Butler taking no part in the argument. Two of these lawyers were members of Congress, and the unfavorable inference is founded on the fact that their fees seem out of all reasonable proportion both to the service rendered and to what was paid to the third gentleman, who was only a simple lawyer. Mr. Carpenter received four thousand five hundred dollars, General Butler three thousand dollars, and Mr. Cushing, who acted as leading counsel and is superior to either of the others in professional standing, received only two thousand dollars. It is therefore intimated by Kellogg's enemies that under the guise of fees he paid to Carpenter and Butler a virtual bribe, expecting to purchase their services in Congress as well as in the Supreme Court. This inference seems to be premature, and is not sustained by the whole state of the facts so far as they have yet been brought to the public knowledge.

If Kellogg intended those heavy retainers as bribes he failed to accomplish his object. Mr. Carpenter, in his subsequent action as Senator, was the foremost opponent of the Kellogg government, making the most powerful speech delivered against it; and Butler, if we recollect aright, advocated and voted for Durell's impeachment. More recently, in an interview granted to the HERALD correspondent, General Butler denied the legality of the Kellogg government. These facts cannot be left out in estimating the insinuation of bribery. Attempts to bribe legislators would very soon come to an end if the money converted advocates into adversaries. Stress has been laid on Senator Carpenter's inconsistency on the Louisiana question, and one prominent journal accounts for it by alleging that he accepted a bribe of ten thousand dollars on the other side. This is said without a shadow of proof, and therefore cannot be considered. Nobody has a right to make such charges, more especially against a man as eminent and honored as the Senator from Wisconsin, unless he supports them by evidence. Mr. Carpenter's inconsistency on the Louisiana question is susceptible of a perfectly honorable explanation. When he was retained as counsel in the writ of prohibition case the subject was new to him and he was merely required to investigate a question of law. A lawyer's duty to his client does not bind him to impartiality, but the reverse. He undertakes, in consideration of his fee, to make the best argument he can on his client's side of the question. In the writ of prohibition case Carpenter's law was sound, or at least it was adjudged to be sound by the Supreme Court, who refused the writ. When the committee of investigation was afterwards proposed in the Senate he spoke in support of the President's action, and up to that time he was perfectly consistent. But after having been appointed on that committee it became his duty to make a thorough examination of the facts, which resulted in a conviction of the utter illegality of the Kellogg government. He yielded his first opinion to irresistible evidence, and set forth that evidence in a speech of such logical force as convinced all impartial men. If his mind had been biassed by his previous relation to a client he yielded that bias when he came to investigate the facts, and the change, so far as yet appears, was honorable to his independence and fairness.

This certainly is very clear. Moreover, there is always to be considered in dealing with our public men what may be called the law of probability. There are probable and improbable crimes, and we think some writer lays down the ingenious theory that in all phases of character, no matter how exalted, there is the possible crime that it might commit. General Butler and Mr. Carpenter have been accused of many things, but no one has regarded them as fools. Certainly they would have been fools to have accepted a bribe from Kellogg and sent him a receipt for the money and then opposed his measure in Congress. This is not the way, so far as we understand it, in which bribery transactions are consummated, and nothing is more improbable on its face than that these two men should be guilty of having accepted a small, insignificant bribe, at the same time putting their fame and influence in peril. When such men sell out to the devil they ask a larger price than Kellogg paid. But at the same time the check-book disclosures have an unpleasant look. They suggest a point of professional morals that ought to be pressed home upon the attention of lawyers who are members of Congress and lawyers also who do business in New York in a strange, loose way. There is no good reason why lawyers serving in either house of Congress may not argue causes in the Supreme Court, under the restrictions which we will presently indicate. It has always been customary in this country, and, supported by such lawyers as Pinckney, Sergeant, Webster and Reverdy Johnson, the custom has passed without challenge. Lawyers who are members of the British House of Commons have always pursued the practice of their profession unless they consented to take office. Brougham had a severe struggle with himself when his party pressed him to take the Lord Chancellorship, and to the end of his life he thought it a mistake to have relinquished his large professional gains which he might have retained as a simple member of Parliament. But it is not only objectionable but scandalous for members of Congress to go into the Supreme Court with heavy retainers and argue cases involving the same questions on which they will afterward be called to act in their legislative capacity. Nothing is easier than to represent their counsel fees as bribes, and it might sometimes be difficult to repel the accusation. Undoubtedly this practice ought to be condemned and abolished. It is more than indelicate; it is inconsistent with the high measure of professional and political honor. The same reasons which exclude from a jury every man who has an interest in the trial, the same reasons which forbid a judge to sit in a case in which he has acted as counsel, are of equal force against the practice of taking fees as a lawyer and then going into Congress and voting on questions relating to the same subject matter.

These things have been done, and we have no doubt there are a thousand instances at hand of public men who have earned fees for arguing before the Courts what they would be called upon to decide as legislators. We think there should be an end of it. A lawyer who accepts a fee—as Butler did—may be as innocent as possible in the transaction, but the country will not always so regard it. When the popular mind is asked to decide between a fee and a bribe the distinction becomes hazy; and public men who allow their business needs to force them into this position must not complain if they are condemned harshly. Among the evils resulting from our civil war is an obtuseness of mind upon what a public man owes to himself and what is due to his profession. Things are done now as a matter of course, consecrated by custom and opportunity, that would never have been permitted in the earlier days. Our condemnation, therefore, does not fall upon the men who are involved in this disclosure, but upon the system. It is a great pity they were not brave enough to rise above the system and make to themselves a law of Jeffersonian purity. But we cannot censure a public man for being no better than his time. Senator Bayard, of Delaware, shines out like a star in the dark galaxy of present statesmanship for his noble letter in response to an application to become a stockholder in the Crédit Mobilier. He had no question of the value of the stock, but he could have no pecuniary interest in any company that would need legislation. How much better a letter of this kind would have read from General Butler than his business communication asking for his fee. The time has come for our public men to accept the Bayard standard in their relations with Congress. Public opinion should reform the custom that has so long held good, and lay it down as a rule that, between a fee and bribe on all questions that may be questions of legislation, there can be and should be no difference.

The Crops in the Southwest.

The Memphis Cotton Exchange, from numerous reports on the cotton crop in Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas, estimates that in these States, from the blighting effects of the recent severe drought, the aggregate yield will be about forty-five per cent less than that of last year. This will be a severe loss to the States directly concerned; but there are still more discouraging facts in this Memphis report, viz.:—Having realized advances to the extent of their interests laborers have abandoned the picking of the cotton in many instances, and as, in addition to prices of cotton being very low, very little grain or meat has been raised, there is much foreboding as to the future. This devotion of their lands and their capital exclusively to the cultivation of cotton has for many years proved a disastrous blunder to our Southern planters. They have depended upon their cotton to supply them, not only with all their household and farming utensils and implements, their clothing, furniture, &c., but to supply them with provisions, to a great extent, from the Northwest, when, for manufactures of all descriptions and for all the articles of subsistence of the temperate zone, our cotton States offer facilities and advantages which exist nowhere else in the world. To these important matters of Southern reconstruction the attention of Southern planters cannot be too earnestly directed.

THE SHERMAN WEDDING.—The Republic has its bright days, when politics, anger, dissension are all forgotten in the general appreciation of some domestic personal event. We had such a day when Miss Grant was married and carried over the seas to her English home. There was a tinge of sadness in the thought that the child of our President was to become an alien, but even this did not prevent our sharing with the President and family the felicity of the happy occasion. It is understood that the President's son will soon approach the altar with one of the beautiful Western belles. To-day the daughter of General Sherman will accept her destiny, and all Washington is in eager excitement over the coming event. The ceremony will be Catholic, and the leading prelate of the West has come on to honor General Sherman by giving his daughter his priestly benediction. There is no man in public life who is more respected and beloved than Tecumseh Sherman. Time, which destroys so many reputations, has strengthened his, and whatever adds to his happiness or that of his house will be profoundly pleasing to the American people.

THREE EVENTS of unusual interest came off yesterday at Fleetwood Park. In the unfinished trot, postponed from Monday, Royal George came in ahead. Arthur won the second trot, and Nellie Walton the third.

A Dose for Mayor Havemeyer—Mr. John Kelly's Vindication.

Mr. John Kelly's reply to the charges preferred against him by Mayor Havemeyer has been made with remarkable and commendable promptness, considering the mass of figures to be reviewed and the length of time covered by the transactions to which they refer. Mr. Havemeyer's letter appeared on September 18, and Mr. Kelly did not return to the city until September 22. It has, therefore, only taken eight days to answer a lengthy indictment, carefully and shrewdly drawn, which is known to have occupied months in perfecting and to have enlisted the ability of at least one experienced lawyer and of a number of expert accountants in the Finance Department. This is creditable to Mr. Kelly, inasmuch as it proves that his accounts while in the public service must have been accurately kept and that the records of his official transactions have been faithfully preserved—a fact scarcely consistent with official dishonesty, which usually seeks by the destruction of records to prevent detection. As to the sufficiency of the reply there will probably be no difference of opinion among disinterested and fair-minded men, so far as the charge of official fraud and robbery made against Mr. Kelly is concerned. The ex-Sheriff appears to show conclusively that Mr. Havemeyer's figures have been trickily and deceptively arranged for the purpose of affording a seeming warrant for such accusations, unless, indeed, we may be charitable enough to suppose that the venerable Mayor has been purposely deceived or has been led into accidental error by the violence of his malignity against those who were instrumental in disturbing his favorite egg nest in Mulberry street.

Outside of its personal bitterness and malignity Mayor Havemeyer's letter contained statements to which Mr. Kelly was bound, in justice to himself and to the public, to make reply. The first and most serious of the charges was that Mr. Kelly, while Sheriff of New York, had reported to the Secretary of State and charged the county of New York for about one hundred thousand more convictions than had actually been had during his term of office. As the Sheriff is entitled to a certain fee on each conviction it followed that if this charge was true he had swindled the county out of a large sum of money, set down by Mr. Havemeyer at nearly thirty-five thousand dollars. The Mayor endeavored to prove the offence against Mr. Kelly by showing that the returns required to be made to the Secretary of State by the clerks of Courts of Record and of Special Sessions of New York gave during Mr. Kelly's two terms of office only twenty thousand convictions, while the returns to the same official, required to be made by the Sheriff, gave one hundred and thirteen thousand. The fact must have been apparent to all who gave any attention to the Mayor's figures that the discrepancy between the returns of the clerks of courts and those of the Sheriff existed only in the Courts of Special Sessions, and not in Courts of Record. The explanation is now afforded by Mr. Kelly. A law was passed in 1839 requiring these returns of convictions to be made to the Secretary of State from each city and county of the State. A circular was sent out by the Secretary of State explaining that the object of the law was to "obtain such accurate statistical information concerning convicts and crimes as may guide intelligent legislation." It was evident that to make these statistics of any practical value the convictions in the Police Courts of New York ought to be returned, as well as those in Courts of Record and Special Sessions; hence the practice was adopted by the Sheriff long before Mr. Kelly's first term of office commenced to include the convictions in the Police Courts. This practice was confirmed and legalized in 1861 by an amendment to the law of 1839, which provided that "all courts in the city of New York having jurisdiction in cases where criminal convictions are had are hereby, for the purposes of this act, declared Courts of Special Sessions, whether composed of one or more police magistrates." The clerks of the Court of Special Sessions did not, however, consider it their duty to include in their returns to the Secretary of State the convictions in the Police Courts, and hence only reported the convictions in the Court of Special Sessions of New York county. This caused the difference in the returns, and Mr. Kelly proves by the record that in the Police Courts the convictions were during his two terms of office more than four times as many as those in the Special Sessions. Furthermore, Mr. Kelly shows that by arrangement with the Secretary of State's office the names of the persons convicted in the Police Courts were retained in the Sheriff's possession, where they now remain open to inspection, while tabular statements of the number, nativity, sexes, ages and other information required for statistical purposes were forwarded to Albany. Mr. Kelly might have added a fact which he has overlooked—namely, that in making up the statistics of crime the Sheriff's returns, and not the incomplete returns of the clerks of Courts of Special Sessions, have always been used by the Secretary of State.

Other answers to counts in the Mayor's bill of indictment are made by Mr. Kelly which are equally conclusive, but which we must pass over, referring the reader to Mr. Kelly's exhaustive letter. When the ex-Sheriff announces that he has every record of his office safe; that he has every volume of police convictions, with names, offences and dates properly certified; that the name of every juror summoned by him in six years is on file, and that every book and paper in his possession is open to the inspection of the Mayor and of every citizen of New York, we are bound to accept his figures as correct. But when we have said this we leave untouched the question as to the official morality which allows a strictly conscientious man and a reformer to take full advantage of laws which entitle him to exorbitant fees and profits, and not to set the example of true reform in his own person. Mr. Kelly, finding enormous perquisites attached to the Sheriff's office, ought, perhaps, in the opinion of some moralists, to have refused the money and used his influence while in office to secure a reform in the interest of the public. We admit, however, that such philanthropy is rare even among the model reformers of our own day. Register Sigel went into office on the shibboleth of reform, and we heard a great deal pending his election about the heavy fees and the great benefit that would be conferred on the dear people by their reduction if they would only "fight mit Sigel" and win the battle of economy. We have not heard that the perquisites of the office are less now than they were under "ring rule." The present Comptroller took office as a reformer; but the reform we have had in the Finance Department has been in the direction of prodigality and inefficiency. The convicted Police Commissioners were reformers; yet the street cleaning iniquities under their management scarcely tended in the direction of reform. The Commissioners of Charities and Correction are of the reform stamp; but their dry goods, flour, beef and false bills do not evince a desire to save the people's money. So if Mr. Kelly did not prove himself a marvel of reform and economy while in office he certainly has plenty of company. We can only advise him, now that he has given us a further proof of the untruthfulness, vindictiveness and trickery of the unfortunate Havemeyer, to remain out of office himself, and to use his political influence to secure those reforms which are needed in the Sheriff's office and in nearly all other public offices before we can enjoy a government based upon truly honest, upright and economical business principles.

Lieutenant Wheeler's Explorations.

While Professor Hayden and his corps of colaborers for several years have been engaged in unveiling the hitherto unexplored and unknown wonders of the Rocky Mountains, from Colorado northward to the marvellous geysers, boiling springs and canyons of the Yellowstone and those surrounding groups of lofty mountains in Wyoming, Montana and Idaho Territories, Lieutenant Wheeler and his large and well equipped force of engineers, geologists, naturalists, botanists, entomologists, &c., have been doing excellent service in their explorations of that vast terra incognita embracing large portions of Utah, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado, of which regions, previous to these explorations, very little was known. From their researches in Western Colorado Lieutenant Wheeler and his immediate party have returned to Denver, with the report that, in their value and importance, the general results of their recent expedition are far beyond the work of previous years.

First, a new pass has been discovered over the backbone of the Rocky Mountains, low enough for a railway to the Gunnison Valley, which is described as the richest region of the Rocky Mountain range. Gunnison Valley is watered by the South Branch of the Grand River, and Grand and Green rivers at their junction are merged in that wild and terrible river, the Colorado of the West, whose outlet, a thousand miles below, is the Gulf of California. Fremont and Gunnison, in their official reports, as "pathfinders," speak in raptures of the natural beauties of Colorado Territory west of the Rocky Mountain "divide"—a region of rich meadows, beautiful parks, forests, fresh water lakes and perennial streams. A feasible route for a railway to the heart of this inviting region will doubtless soon be followed by the building of the road and the settlement of the country.

Our despatch from Denver on Wheeler's discoveries next informed us that the finest collection of fossil remains ever found in America had been secured by Professor Cope, paleontologist of the expedition; that on the shore of an ancient ocean in New Mexico forty-seven specimens were found in one day, and that the megatherium, the mastodon, and all classes of saurian monsters illustrating the animal life of the saurian epoch are among these valuable specimens. But the ocean here referred to must have been a fresh water lake, for those animals, like the rhinoceros and hippopotamus of the present day, were fresh water creatures, and lived upon the vegetation of fresh water lakes, rivers and swamps. In the southeastern corner of California and extending up into Nevada there is the bed of an ancient inland sea or bay which in ancient times was but an expansion and prolongation of the present Gulf of California. For this now dry desert basin Senator Jones, of Nevada, has secured a survey, for the purpose of ascertaining the cost of reconverting it into an inland sea by means of a canal to the Colorado River, only some fifty miles distant, the general level of the basin being two hundred feet below the sea.

The fossils of this desert basin indicate their salt water origin as distinctly as those of the "great bone yards" of Nebraska, Dakota, Wyoming and New Mexico indicate a fresh water habitat. Doubtless when the Colorado desert was an arm of the sea immense areas of the now elevated and arid plains east and west of the Rocky Mountains were fresh water lakes, swarming with the monstrous aquatic animals of the saurian epoch. But these recent explorations, in a practical view, have resulted in far more important discoveries than the fossil remains of extinct animals. They have greatly enlarged the area of habitable and productive lands in our new Territories beyond what it was supposed to be, and have thus proportionately increased our country's general resources of wealth and prosperity. A few years hence from these explorations the existing blanks on the maps of the western division of the United States will be filled up with the mountains, rivers, lakes, and plains belonging to them, and not till then shall we fully realize the grandeur and the resources of our goodly inheritance.

GOVERNOR KELLOGG ON HIS DEFENCE.—Governor Kellogg has issued an address to the people of the United States, in which he attempts to justify his original usurpation of power in the unfortunate State he misrules, and next, to prove that his carpet-bag government has been an honest one. The best thing he could do to satisfy the people of the United States would be to relieve the people of Louisiana of his presence, and to leave them free to choose their own State government by a fair vote of all entitled to the franchise, black and white. This would be the most convincing proof he could give of his honesty. Of course we do not expect him to give it.

THE CASE OF PHELPS, the defaulting clerk in the State Treasurer's office, is now being tried at Albany. Mr. Raines, the Treasurer, testified that Phelps was able to make exact imitations of his own and the State Comptroller's handwriting. The State Treasurer ought to have been watchful of so accomplished a clerk.

A Great Nautical Invention.

One of the greatest inventions in steam machinery which the fertile genius of the age has produced has recently been announced and successfully tested in England. Like all other really valuable designs for giving safety it acts upon the principle that an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure. The contrivance is an automatic engine governor, whose work is to regulate the motion of the steamship's propeller, so as to save the ship from the frequent and fatal breakdown by straining of the machinery.

The mammoth passenger steamship of the present day, once at sea, is almost wholly dependent on the strength and safe working of her screw. The safe and efficient action of the screw depends on the immobility of the water in which it revolves and in its sufficient immersion. Every sea-goer on the great steamers has felt the shock and peril of the "racing" of the engines when, in a heavy sea, the propeller is lifted out of the water and the revolution is four or five times increased. Instantly a sudden check is brought to bear on all the connections, the whole apparatus is subjected to an intense strain and then comes the ominous breaking of the shaft, leaving the vessel at the mercy of the storm.

The invention to which we allude applies an anticipative correction of this catastrophe by its automatic action. It consists of a pneumatic air chamber, which communicates with the sea through a sea-valve and with the throttle valve of the engine, and acting somewhat after the principle of the Westinghouse air-brake on steam cars when the train is broken. This pneumatic governor, so simple and instantaneous in its operation, cuts off the steam from the engines by the transference of pressure the instant a heavy sea begins to lift the screw out of the water. The adjustment is such that when or before the propeller is raised out of the resisting medium, and before acceleration can ensue, the throttle has served its purpose and the shaft been relieved from all tension. Nothing could be simpler and more summary in its working, and scarcely any invention could afford greater safety, comfort and economy to all steam vessels employing the screw.

The economy of steam, and consequently of fuel, by closing off the supply of motive power from the boiler when the propeller is in the air, must be very great in long voyages. The enormous saving of the wear and tear of the facings and gearing and the relief of the shafts and rods from the tremendous tension of the rolling waves must be still greater economy to the steamship company. But the outweighing consideration of the great security to life and property from so cheap and self-acting a contrivance will very much enhance the popularity of every ocean steamer which it is known employs it. The simplicity, inexpensiveness and self-evident utility of this invention should strongly commend it to all our steam lines, especially on the boisterous Atlantic, and no time should be lost in fitting it upon their vessels before the winter gales set in.

WHERE ARE THE OLD LEADERS?—A Richmond correspondent paints a sad picture of the state of Southern society and politics since the war. He criticises Mr. Davis sharply, and presents what will with some softening of tone be undoubtedly the historical estimate of this singular man. The passing away of the men who were leaders in the rebellion, out of all relation to reconstruction, is one of the saddest phases of the whole situation. The South will never assume her true place in the Union until her real leaders come to the front.

WHO COMMANDS THE ARMY?

Removal of General Sherman's Headquarters to St. Louis—Powers of the Commander-in-Chief.

The headquarters of the army will to-day be transferred from Washington to St. Louis. This change is in accordance with General Sherman's request, and is approved by orders issued through the War Department by the President, who directs that the present functions of the General of the Army and those in relation to the transaction of business with the War Department and its bureaus will continue in force. This transaction, though not without a parallel in the military history of the country, is one of which the country was some months ago advised; but it is, nevertheless, entitled to some fuller remarks and explanations than it has heretofore received. General Sherman retires from the seat of government simply for the reason that the Secretary of War has taken out of his hands almost every particle of authority that appertained for years to the Commanding General of the Army, and left him with hardly the slightest semblance of authority in the administration of the military establishment. Consequently his position at Washington became irksome and Sherman has frankly and in the most public manner stated as much. General Grant, after the war, as will be seen, felt in the same manner and communicated his views to Secretary Stanton; but General Grant, according to the orders referred to above, directs the continuance of a system which General Sherman finds inconsistent with his dignity and which is properly due to the high position he occupies to remain a mere figurehead at the capital. It is the custom in all countries maintaining standing armies for the General-in-Chief to reside at the seat of government. The reasons for it are apparent. The same was the case with Washington, St. Clair, Wayne, Dearborn, Brown, Macomb and Grant when not engaged in active operations in the field. Brown and Macomb both died at Washington; Scott for a time had his headquarters in New York in consequence of differences existing between him and W. L. Marcy and Jefferson Davis, while the latter was Secretary of War, and it was in consequence of these difficulties which resulted in stripping Scott of considerable of the authority allowed to him by law and regulations that a condition of affairs was created that has led to Sherman retiring to St. Louis.

OBITUARY.

The Duke of Leinster.

The Most Noble Augustus Frederick Fitzgerald, Duke of Leinster, Ireland, died yesterday at the age of eighty-three years. The Duke of Leinster—who was during many years "Ireland's only Duke"—descended in a direct line from the fourth of the illustrious house of the Geraldines, who passed from Italy to Normandy and thence into England, where he became so great a favorite with Edward the Confessor that he excited the jealousy of the Saxon Thanes. Maurice Fitzgerald, his heir, was the patriarch of the Irish Geraldines. He landed in the Green Isle in the year 1171, and from him have descended a line of patriots, soldiers, counsellors of State and also some formidable rebels against British rule, the latter class including the names of the famous "Silken Thomas" and Lord Edward Fitzgerald, who died of wounds which he received in resisting arrest upon a charge of high treason, on the 4th of June, 1798. The nobleman just now deceased was premier Duke, Marquess and Earl of Ireland. He married a daughter of the Earl of Harrington. His eldest son, the Marquess of Kildare, will succeed to the dukedom.

THE FITCH-SHERMAN NUPTIALS.

Arrangements for the Marriage To-Day.

Special Benediction of the Vicar of Christ Among the Gifts.

Improper Conduct of Miss Flora McFlimsey.

The Groom, the Bride and the Trousseau.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30, 1874.

The preparations for the nuptials between Miss Minnie Sherman and Lieutenant Fitch are now advanced to the last particular and Washington only awaits the hour. Seldom does such a windfall come to the shopkeeping class for whose voracity this auspicious occasion forms a delicious meal. As one walked down Pennsylvania avenue this morning toward the Capitol the names of Miss Sherman, the General and the lucky young bridegroom could be heard tripping from lip to lip among the fair young Treasury clerks, who, with all other true Washingtonians, turn their faces Treasuryward at eight in the morning. It is exhilarating to find oneself in a connubial atmosphere, so to speak, for as Washington has no public business on hand, such as Crédit Mobiliers, back pay or even third term, it turns heart and soul to the wedding of this young couple. Down Pennsylvania avenue parties of ladies, adding the last dozen of trifles to their toilet for the morrow, could be seen, while an occasional member of the sterner sex, covered with a summer wilted white hat, might be observed to furtively enter a hatter's store and reappear with a black silk chapeau of the latest style. Lavender kids and lavender ties were in lavish demand. Many were the comments passed upon the weather, and "Old Prob" himself was waited on by a bevy of blushing young ladies to know if he could not possibly arrange for clear weather to the exclusion of "partly cloudy and rainy." The veteran wiped a tear from his weather eye, remarked that he was once young himself, and would do what he could. Around and within General Sherman's mansion the greatest activity prevailed. The event of to-morrow will be doubly significant there, for it is the General's formal farewell to Washington, as well as the wedding of his eldest daughter. The splendid which are grouped by loving hands in the grand old soldier's study up stairs, receives additions every few minutes. The glittering and useful articles are duly ticketed for inspection, and what may be called the private view is taking place to-night.

ARRAY OF BRIDAL PRESENTS,

THE VISITORS

were almost exclusively members of the family and the groomsmen and bridesmaids, who take a palpitating interest in the details. Mrs. Sherman, wearied with a long day of anxious preparation, was not present, and, of course, the coming bride was invisible, the honors being done by Miss Lizzie Sherman with fascinating elegance. The General himself, happy and smiling, moved among the visitors with a pleasant word for all. The Iowa branch of the Sherman family and the gentle blooded Ewings from Ohio were present in large numbers. Floral artists and mysterious confectioners went about making their work look beautiful for the morrow, for all is then to be fresh, fragrant, bright and inviting.

THE CHURCH OF ST. ALOYSIUS has been tastefully decorated and the movements of the bridal party during the marriage ceremony and the imposing nuptial mass which is to follow, have all been studied out and arranged. The rising of the sun and his advance to within one hour of meridian, are all now needed to make the distinguished spectators, family and young couple happy—the former for an hour the latter for life. Among the many beautiful gifts is one which the young couple prize as highly as all others—one which, perhaps, the disciples of Tyndall might not value at all, but which has at least historic interest for all. It is a letter from the President of the American College at Rome conveying to the bride and groom

THE BLESSING OF HIS HOLINESS THE POPE.

The letter is as follows:—

AMERICAN COLLEGE, ALBANO, Sept. 10, 1874.

DEAR MR. FITCH—This morning I had the pleasure of receiving a card of invitation to your wedding, forwarded, I think, by Mrs. Sherman and accompanied with her regards. Please return her my sincere thanks, and say how greatly I appreciate the honor. The letter I wrote you some time since in answer to yours was a rather brief one, partly because of occupation and partly because I had the intention of writing this one. Debarred from taking part in the festivities of the occasion and not in a condition to make wedding presents, I wanted, nevertheless, to contribute to the happiness of so auspicious an event and of a marriage so truly catholic, and this in a permanent, substantial way, especially as you are pleased to attribute to me, though quite unconscious of it, a certain agency in bringing it about. For all these sufficiently weighty reasons I resolved to anticipate your wedding day by what I am sure will be more acceptable than many a gift—the blessing of our Holy Father Pio Nono on your marriage day.

A short time ago in a private audience with the Holy Father I spoke to him of General and Miss Sherman, whom he remembered very well, told him of the coming marriage of Miss Sherman with yourself, one of the young officers I had presented to him some time before, a fact he had not forgotten, and then asked for the blessing on your nuptials. This he deigned very graciously to give, so that you start out in life with the special benediction of the Vicar of Christ.

In conclusion, I can only add my own best wishes that every happiness may attend you and your betrothed, that you may go through this earthly pilgrimage each helping the other to bear its crosses and gain its rewards both here and hereafter, when you will change the nuptial crowns for those that fade not. Desiring to be most respectfully remembered to General and Mrs. Sherman and with very kind regards to Miss Sherman, I am, dear Mr. Fitch, very truly yours in Christ.

S. M. CHATARD.

Among the invitations which found the receiver willing, but to whom circumstances forbade an acceptance, was one to the distinguished English Catholic Lady Herbert. Her note of regret is quite interesting, and so is herewith appended.

NOTE FROM LADY HERBERT.

DORLIN, LOCH SHIEL SALEN, N. B.,
Sept. 12, 1874.

MY DEAR MISS SHERMAN—Your most kind invitation to your marriage found me in this wild and beautiful spot in the Catholic part of the Highlands of Scotland. I am so sorry that I cannot, therefore, profit by it; but I assure you I shall pray very much for you on that day that every blessing and joy may be yours in future life.

Pray present my compliments to the General of the Army and Mrs. Sherman, and thank them for their kindness in remembering me. Yours, most sincerely,

M. E. HERBERT.

I hope if you come to England you will come and see me and introduce your husband.

THE DEMAND FOR INVITATIONS.

From present indications the throng at the church will be immense as well as brilliant. Twenty-five hundred invitations have been issued for the services at the church, and they are in such high demand that many means, the reverse of reputable, have been taken by the unscrupulous but curious to obtain possession of them. Many persons to whom they have been sent have not received them, while it is known that some have been made a matter of dollars and cents, after, it is believed, being purloined from the mails. But of such is Miss Flora McFlimsy. When she believes herself slighted no subterfuge to gain her end weighs upon her conscience. She will have the rare felicity, if not discovered at the church door and sent away howling, of touching elbows with the great and brilliant of the capital to-morrow, and witnessing a wedding outshining in exterior pomp and solemn splendor anything she has hitherto feasted her blinking eyes withal.

Archbishop Purcell was at St. Aloysius' church to-day and celebrated mass, after which he administered the sacrament of Confirmation to Mrs. General Charles Ewing, who entered the Catholic Church two years ago.

THE WEDDING CARDS.

The Sherman-Fitch wedding cards were issued about two weeks ago. On an oblong sheet of Pirus' finest tinted note paper we read:—

> THE GENERAL and MRS. SHERMAN > at home
> Thursday, October 1,
> from one until four o'clock.
> 207 I street.

On a large square card, matching the paper in quality and coloring, are these words:—

> The General of the Army and > Mrs. Sherman invite you to be present > at the
> Nuptial Mass and Marriage > of their daughter,
> MARIA EWING SHERMAN, > and
> THOMAS WILLIAM FITCH,
> Engineer Corps, United States Navy, > which will be solemnized by
> His Grace J. B. Purcell,
> Most Rev. Archbishop of Cincinnati, > in St. Aloysius church,
> Washington, D. C., > on Thursday, October 1, 1874,
> at eleven o'clock.

while on a narrow, long card, without which no one could obtain ingress to the church, was engraved:—

> PRESENT THIS AT THE CHURCH DOOR,

the whole being in a large square envelope, without monogram or initial. Could it be possible that so many years had come and gone? It made us feel old to receive the wedding card of the daughter of what seemed but yesterday's bride.

MISS SHERMAN

has been quite a favorite in the small circle whom she admitted to the enjoyment of her friendship, and greatly admired by society generally, not for a "perfect beauty," which she did not possess, but for a certain charm of manner, a gracious sweetness of features and delightful simplicity of character. She is above the medium height, with a fair complexion, cold, dark gray eyes, aquiline nose, proud, imperious mouth, and light brown golden-streaked hair. There was great repose of manner and much reserve with strangers. Her independence of character has always been marked and her indifference to what are known as "beaux" much commented upon. An incident that came to our knowledge during the visit of

PRINCE ARTHUR

to this country will convey a correct idea of exactly how independent she was. While on a visit to this city the Prince, who was a very "unassuming, clever fellow," so the young men said, was greatly lionized. Dinners, parties, receptions and germans were given in his honor. In return for all this kindness to the son of his Queen, Sir Edward Thornton conceived the happy idea of giving a ball. Masonic Temple was hired, and every energy put forward to make the affair worthy of the guests and the royal host and his Minister. The best decorators were engaged to do the hall, the modistes were crazed by the demand for new robes du bal. The caterer lived on the road from his kitchen in Washington to Delmonico's door in New York. Florists were bidden to spare "no expense." A clerk "was engaged day and night in answering notes" begging, praying, beseeching "dear Lady Thornton for an invitation." But superior to everything was the question, "With whom will he dance?" Each princess among our belles thought surely with her and each fancied the other would be the Cinderella left in the cold. Mrs. Thornton made a list and gave it to one of the Legation, and from that list the partners were chosen for "His Highness." The ball, opened by Mrs. Thornton and the Prince, at the first valse to one of those bewitching airs that inspire the feet and flutter the heart, Prince Arthur advanced to Miss Sherman to demand her hand "pour le valse." Raising her cold eyes and slightly arching her always haughtily proud head, she said:—

"Thank you, but the rules of my church do not allow me to 'do' the round dances." A pause and Arthur, too well bred to urge compliance against principles, remained quietly chatting until was announced, and then, offering his arm to [illegible] Sherman, they led the dance. The incident created a profound sensation among the beaux and belles, and made an impression on the Prince. From that time he visited frequently at the General's, and on his return to England sent, with a letter, a superb locket of Etruscan gold. On one side is a turquoise surrounded by diamonds, and on the other a photograph of His Highness, the whole sent "To the young lady who of all others in America he admired the most." In the spring of 1871 Miss Sherman made a visit to Fort Leavenworth, and while there was thrown from a horse, sustaining serious injuries and producing results so alarming that her physicians ordered a European trip. After a protracted stay abroad, during which she regained health, her face was turned homeward—London first becoming the objective point. In sauntering through the Crystal Palace she was presented to the gentleman who to-day became her husband.

MR. FITCH

is a New Yorker and a man of fine personnel, with large frame, square shoulders, brown hair and beard, honest eyes, and compares most favorably with the plain, insignificant Englishman who took from us our "bonnie Princess Nellie." Mr. Fitch did not return on the steamer with Miss Sherman, for, unfortunately for this romantic story, his passage was engaged, and the voyage home was made alone. In New York he awaited with impatience the steamer fetching over the water what he suddenly found had become necessary to his happiness. On her arrival, After a few days' rest in the great city Mr. Fitch accepted the invitation to return with General Sherman and family. We all remember the beautiful reception given by "the staff" to the daughter of their chief, and with what pleasure friends and society welcomed her home.

THE ENGAGEMENT

was soon noised about, but Washington being a place most prolific in scandal gossip, those who knew the gentle "Minnie" best thought it only gossip.

THE TROUSSEAU

was ordered from Paris, and it comprises everything essential to a woman's happiness. There are soft cashmere morning robes, dainty jackets rich in embroidery, street dresses fashioned of costly gros d'Orleans, with polonaise or cuirass of camel's hair or matelassée, dinner costumes of gros grain embroidered in colors with tropical flowers and birds, and garments with rich velvet and costly lace, evening dresses of sheeny, glimmering silk, the lustrous folds half hidden beneath drapings of diaphanous illusion and muslin almost concealed by foaming, snowy lace, coquettish hats and exquisite bonnets, superb sets of frosty lace, with designs of flowers so life-like that every breath moved them into being; parasols, covered with thread lace in rich artistic patterns, the handles curiously wrought from pearl, ivory, tortoise shell and malacca; dainty mouchoirs, edged with costly pointe de Venice, appliqué, Brussels and Valenciennes; every article of lingerie, with collars and cuffs in great variety. These, with dozens of "Jouvin's best," finished a wardrobe exquisite in quality, abundant in quantity and without precedent in designs of costumes. The wedding robe is one of Worth's happiest efforts.

A VISIT TO THE PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30, 1874.

To-day General Sherman, accompanied by his daughter Rachel, General Kilby Smith and Miss Miller, of Columbus, Ohio, had a pleasant interview with President Grant, who returned to this city this morning.

AN ABANDONED BARK.

Fate of the Captain and Crew a Mystery.

QUEBEC, Sept. 30, 1874.

A pilot schooner fell in with the bark Dunbroy from Cardiff, loaded with coal. She was ashore at Mille Vache shoals, making no water and abandoned. Put twelve pilots aboard and proceeded to Quebec, on the 28th inst. No intelligence has been received from Captain Power and the crew.

AMUSEMENTS.

Italian Opera—Aida—First Appearance of Signora Potentini, Signor Carpi and Signor Fiorini.

It is always pleasant to chronicle a success on the stage, and when it comes in an operatic form the pleasure is still the greater. Such was the result of the performance at the Academy of Music last night. A soprano and tenor made their first appearance in Verdi's last, and perhaps his best, work, "Aïda," and at once gained genuine, unalloyed success. They were Signora Potentini and Signor Carpi. "Aïda" will eventually become the most popular work in the répertoire of Mr. Strakosch, as it is the matured thought of the greatest of modern Italian composers. The story is attractive, despite its antiquity. It may be hard to imagine love, jealousy and kingcraft in connection with the swathed mummies of the pyramids; but when the simple, expressive plot of Signor Ghislanzoni is well considered the difficulty vanishes. In this opera, written at the command of the Khedive, and produced for the first time in Cairo, Egypt, with such artists as Pozzoni, Grossi, Mongini and Medini, Verdi departs in a great measure from his recognized style. His instrumentation is particularly novel. The coloring of the melodic themes is fantastic and Oriental in its positiveness, but always effective. Considering that "Aïda" was presented last season more frequently than any other opera in the répertoire, its popularity in America may be looked upon as a fixed fact.

It served last season as a medium for the triumph of Mlle. Torriani and Signor Campanini. It introduced last evening Signora Potentini and Signor Carpi, with far more favorable results than their predecessors in the two principal rôles enjoyed. A dramatic prima donna, now that Grisi is dead and La Grange and Gazzaniga have retired from the stage, is a rara avis in the world of art. Signora Potentini amply fills the void. Her voice is of the true dramatic order, full, sonorous, readily responding to every phase of passion and cultivated to an extent approaching perfection. This was observable even in the first act, when she sung the wail of the captive princess who struggles between her love of father and country and of the gallant young chieftain who goes to destroy both. In the third act, musically speaking the best in the opera, Signora Potentini sung the magnificent music allotted to Aïda in this scene with an effect rarely equalled on our boards. The duet with her father, the captive king, in which she passionately implores him to spare her from the humiliation and anguish of making her lover a victim to the designs against his duty toward his country and the succeeding interview with Radamès were delivered with such passion and fire that the entire house broke out into a spontaneous outburst of applause. The grand duet in the last act, the adieu to earth, was another triumph for the prima donna. Fully equal to the greatness of Signora Potentini's impersonation of the title rôle was the Radamès of Signor Carpi. A tenore robusto is nowadays as scarce an article as a prima donna dramatica. When Signor Carpi sung the first aria, "Celeste Aïda," he was at once recognized as the desired tenor. In the third act, in the duet with Aïda, and in the last scene his success was assured. Since the departure of Salvi we have had no tenor on the operatic stage in New York that can compare in voice with Carpi. He did not make the same imposing appearance in the rôle of the Egyptian Captain that made the success of Campanini; but he sung much better than his predecessor in the rôle. At the end of the third act he was called before the curtain, with Signora Potentini, five times—a tribute from the public which has only been paid to Nilsson and Campanini, in the fourth act of "Gli Ugonotti." Miss Cary appeared in the character of Amneris, which she has made her own, and we know of no occasion on which she made as decided a success. Her beautiful contralto voice is now in its prime and the thorough artistic spirit which is manifested in her operatic impersonations shines with full lustre in her Amneris. Signor Del Puente reappeared as Amonasro, and made a hit as great as that achieved by Maurel at the first performance of the opera. Signor Fiorini made his début in the rôle of the high priest, Ramfis, and showed evidence of a good bass voice, marred only by a disagreeable tremolo. A tremolant tone is never desirable in any singer; but in bass notes it destroys much of the effect that a naturally good organ might produce. Signor Scolara, a conscientious artist, made the rôle of the King of Egypt a feature of the opera. The chorus and orchestra, under the experienced direction of Signor Muzio, were worthy of Covent Garden. This opera cannot fail, with such superb presentation, to be the principal feature of the present season. On Friday Mlle. Marie Heilbron appears as Marguerite in "Faust."

BROOKLYN YACHT CLUB.

Regular Monthly Meeting—Election of Members—The Long Delayed Tidal Wave—Comet Matter Settled.

The regular monthly meeting of the Brooklyn Yacht Club was held at its rooms, Court and Montague streets, last evening. Mr. P. V. Ostrander in the chair.

After disposing of the usual routine business the following gentlemen were elected members:—Dr. T. G. Johnson, owner of the sloop Lizzie L; John A. Pease, F. H. Stout, owner of the schooner Sea Witch; William A. Mundell and R. H. Foote.

Mr. Braman, Chairman of the Regatta Committee, submitted a report of the season's regattas, instancing the pleasant success of the June reunion, the race from Newport to the west chop buoy during the cruise, and the late regatta for champion pennants. The report also settled the vexed question between the owners of the schooners Tidal Wave and Comet as to the winner of the Flag Officer's and Club prizes in the June regatta, by deciding in favor of the former, recent remeasurements making her victorious by 13 seconds. The certificates of the measurer accompanying the report make these vessels of the following dimensions:—Tidal Wave—Length on water line, 107 feet; breadth of beam on water line, 24 feet 1 inch. Comet—Length on water line, 72 feet 10 inches; breadth of beam on water line, 21 feet. The first decision of the judges made the Tidal Wave the winner by 2 min. 50 sec.

On motion of Commodore Asten, the thanks of the club were tendered Mr. Theo. W. Meyers for the use of the steam yacht Emily during the late fall regatta, and also for the valuable aid which he rendered on that occasion.

Other complimentary resolutions were passed, when the club adjourned.

CREEDMOOR.

Strong Wind and Poor Scores.

THE REGIMENTAL TEAMS.

Close Competitions for the State Prizes.

The military matches of the First and Second divisions of the National Guard were begun yesterday, under conditions that were not very favorable to good shooting. The weather was clear and warm, scarcely any effect of Tuesday's storm being visible, but the wind swept in irregular gusts across the range with a force that rendered it very difficult for the marksmen to take steady aim. As a result the scoring was very low, even good shots feeling thankful if they got on the target at all. So far, however, as the comfort of the men was concerned the day was truly enjoyable, the heat of the sun being tempered by the unruly wind that played such havoc with the aim of the riflemen. The arrangements, too, were very orderly. The different regimental squads camped on the range paraded before their tents at the hour appointed for the opening of the matches with military precision, and after inspection were marched down to the firing point under the command of their officers. The appearance of the squads camped on the ground was creditable to the National Guard. Scrupulous attention had been paid to the tidiness and soldierly appearance of the men. Some few of the visiting squads offered an unpleasant contrast to the men of the Twenty-second, Twelfth and Seventh, who were specially distinguished by their soldierly appearance and bearing. Owing to the high wind few of the teams did as well as might have been expected at the 200 yards range. With the exception of the Seventy-ninth all of them had some of their members disqualified, through not making a sufficiently high score to enable them to shoot at the 500 yards, according to the terms of the match. In fact, there was a perfect slaughter of the innocents among the regimental teams, some of them going back to the 500 yards range with only one-fourth of their members qualified to continue in the competition. The Second division match, in all essential particulars, resembled that of the First; and, though some fair shooting was done, the general result was certainly not very satisfactory.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST ARRANGEMENTS.

The non-military members of the association are loud in condemnation of the present system of mixing up military and civil matters when there is no necessity for it. Under the present system competitors are kept waiting all day in order to shoot in one match, which is by no means amusing.

UNGENTLEMANLY CONDUCT.

The general conduct of the men present was exemplary. Some officers belonging to one of the regiments amused themselves playing cricket, using the butts of their guns as bats and for balls a bottle. It is to be regretted that persons supposed to be gentlemen should set an example of such dangerous horse play. We were unable to discover to which of the regiments these "gentlemen" belonged.

The following is a summary of the matches yesterday at 200 yards between the teams of the two divisions of the National Guard:—

THE DIVISION MATCHES.

Twelfth regiment	140	143	283
Twenty-second regiment	139	93	232
Seventy-ninth regiment	113	110	223

Under the rule that any one of a team that does not make eight points at 200 yards is debarred from shooting at the 500 yards distance, the Eighth, Twelfth, Seventy-first and Twenty-second each lost one man; the Eighty-fourth, six; the Ninety-sixth, five out of its eight men; the Ninth, three; the Fifth, three, and the Eleventh, nine.

SECOND DIVISION.

The following is the score of the regiments of the Second division:—

THE SHOOTING AT TWO HUNDRED YARDS.

Thirty-second (battalion)	119
Twenty-eighth (battalion)	113
Thirteenth regiment	110
Forty-seventh regiment	104

Of the men who failed to make eight points there were four in the Thirteenth, two in the Fourteenth, three in the Forty-seventh, one in the Twenty-third, two in the Twenty-eighth, three in the Thirty-second and three in the Fifteenth.

Although when the firing at 500 yards ceased in the division matches, it was impossible, owing to the lateness of the hour, for the statistical officer to make up the scores, it is pretty certain that the winning teams in the First division are:—First, the Twelfth regiment; second, the Seventh; third, the Seventy-ninth with the Twenty-second a good fourth. The Eighth at 500 yards scored 88, the Seventy-first 76, the Ninth 23, the Fifth 24 and the Eighty-fourth 23, with several men's shots not ascertained in the last three regiments.

Total, thirty prizes, value	$2,000

The 500 yards distance in this match was completed only just before dark, so the scores could not be made out. It is believed that the Seventy-ninth is the winning team. Mr. Barry, of the Twenty-second, made fifteen at 200 yards, and five bull's eyes at the 500 yards distance, and will undoubtedly secure the prize for the best individual score of his team.

To-day the officers' match at 500 yards will be shot, also the Army and Navy Journal, the Gatling and the press matches. The "Bennett long range championship" match, in which the Irish and American teams are to take part will be begun on Friday.

THE IRISH TEAM.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 30, 1874.

JOHN KELLY'S REPLY.

When I succeeded Willett, I found Watson in the office. I knew nothing about him, never hearing of his arrest until several years after, and as he was strongly recommended by the late Frederick L. Vultee, I retained him. And I will here state that so long as I knew, or had any business transaction with Watson, he seemed to be in every respect an honorable, reliable man, and I think there is not a lawyer in this city with whom he did business who would not corroborate that statement. Your assertion that he signed my bills is also false, a fact which the bills themselves (which you have, I believe) will clearly show. After I left the office of Sheriff, on the election of Matthew T. Brennan, as Comptroller, I recommended Watson for the position of Auditor, to which he was appointed. At that time the duties of Auditor were comparatively unimportant, and the salary only $1,500. After Connolly succeeded Brennan, Watson's place was in danger. He appealed to me for my influence to retain him, and I told him I had none, which was the fact. And he has retained his place, as he afterward told me, through the influence of William M. Tweed and Peter B. Sweeny. As far as Tweed is concerned, it is absurd to allege any connivance on my part with him. It is notorious that Tweed was always my enemy, and that I opposed him resolutely in every respect, both in and out of politics. Every one connected with politics in the city of New York knows that neither Tweed nor those associated with him ever had any friendly feelings toward me.

THE MAYORALTY NOMINATION.

In regard to my nomination for Mayor you are as unfair and unjust as you are in every other respect. At that time my health was very nearly broken down and I had much sickness in my family. I was urged very strongly to accept the nomination, my friends doing me the honor to believe that I was the only person who could beat the Tammany Ring, then in the height of its power. Through my anxiety to see the Ring overthrown I allowed myself to be persuaded into accepting the nomination against the advice of my physician and my family. The first few days of the excitement of the caucus made such inroads upon my health that I was at once obliged to abandon everything and seek retirement, going to Europe as soon as my health would permit, where I was obliged to remain for over two years and a half. Up to the time of my withdrawal as a candidate Mr. Hall had not been nominated, nor would it have made any difference if he had. You speak of my calling myself "honest" and of my "religion." My religion is a matter which concerns myself alone. I am not in the habit of talking about it, and no man living has ever heard me speak about it in the sense which you seek to convey. I do not know if you belong to any church; but if you do, and had consulted your own religious adviser in regard to the wicked and unjust charges you have made against me, I think that he would have strongly advised you to have taken a different course. I call your attention to the text, "Judge not, that ye be not judged."

In conclusion I would state—not to you but to the public—that the embarrassments which I have been under in preparing answers to your charges have been very great, myself, my counsel and a number of assistants having been engaged upon the matter for days. What business man is there who, if questioned in regard to the smallest details of matters involving charges of $1 and extending throughout a term of six years, and going as far back as 1859, some of them aggregating but $24 25, would be able to give a satisfactory and clear explanation?

KELLY HAS HIS RECORDS.

Fortunately for me, however, I have kept my records well preserved, and I am prepared to meet you at all points. I have in my office the names of the parties whose conviction you say I did not return to the Secretary of State, to prove that I did. I have the names of the jurors that I summoned, but whom you say I did not. I have a list of the persons for whose conveyance I charged, and who you say never were received, and I have vouchers for the money I collected from the county for the disbursements which you dispute. Having now made this explanation to the public, at the earliest possible moment, for the purpose of clearing my character, I propose to stop. You and your assistant, Nelson J. Waterbury, have announced, through the press, that you are preparing another similar attack upon me. I think I have demonstrated the falsity of your charges, so that what you may say hereafter will command even less attention from the public than you obtained for your original letter. I understand that you have been collecting from the Police Courts the convictions during my term of office. These will establish that my charges are in all respects correct—a fact which you have probably ascertained, as I am informed you have suddenly stopped your labor in this direction. The public, however, demand that you shall publish what you have obtained, and I am only anxious you should do so if you will do it correctly. At all events I shall answer no more letters, but now notify you that I shall, as soon as my counsel can prepare the papers, commence a suit against you and Nelson J. Waterbury for libel, and subject you to the impartial investigation before a sworn jury, which I promised to do in my letter to the public published at the same time with your letter, and shall in those proceedings establish, beyond cavil or doubt, that while "the shadows of your years were becoming long in the west," by which I infer you mean that you are growing old, it is you, and not I, who, by publishing a series of infamous libels upon an innocent man have "closed your career finally in dishonor." JOHN KELLY.

Appendix.

State of New York, City and County of New York, ss:—William C. Conner, of said city, being duly sworn, deposes and says:—That he is the Sheriff of the city and county of New York, that he has been such Sheriff since the 1st day of January, 1874; that the entire gross receipts of his office from every and all sources of revenue, including poundage and Sheriff's fees on executions and attachments and all other process, less amount allowed to deputies for collection, collections from attorneys for term fees and service fees on orders of arrest and on executions returned no property, and also receipts from State Comptroller for the conveyance of prisoners convicted of State Prison offences to the State Prison at Sing Sing, and excepting only the legal charges against the county for services rendered as required and allowed by the Statutes for and during the six months ending June 30, 1874, amounted to the sum of $9,894 25. That during the same period the necessary current and actual expenses of his office, for salary of clerks and assistants, and for work and services and labor necessarily employed and required in conducting the business of the office, and not including the large sums paid for fitting up the office, and for the necessary books, blanks and stationery, he has paid the sum of $18,822 73; that for the six months aforesaid, from January 1, 1874, to June 30, 1874, the amount of his two quarterly bills rendered to the county for summoning jurors, reporting convictions to the Secretary of State, conveyance of prisoners to prison other than State Prison, proclamation Oyer and Terminer, advertising and some other minor charges, amount to the sum of $18,610 35, which said bills have not, as yet, been finally settled by the Comptroller; that for the character and amount of the responsibility which the Sheriff is required by law to assume in the performance of the duties and functions of his office, the compensation allowed and collected for services to private parties in civil suits and proceedings is entirely inadequate and insufficient to meet the current and necessary expenses of the office, as the following brief summary will show:—

Payments, salaries and current expenses of running office, not including the expense of fitting up office, and purchase of books, blanks and stationery	$18,822 73
Receipts from all sources, excepting only county charges	9,894 25
Deficiency	$8,928 48

—leaving a deficiency for the first six months of my term of office in the receipts from private parties, on civil and other process, and from the State for conveyance of prisoners to State Prison, to meet the actual and necessary expenses incidental to the conduct of the business of the office for said term.

WILLIAM C. CONNER.

Sworn to before me, this 29th day of September, 1874—A. J. KEEGAN, Notary Public.

ARMY INTELLIGENCE.

Orders and Assignments to Duty.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30, 1874.

Second Lieutenant Alexander Morton, of the Fifth artillery, has been ordered to the Military Academy at West Point for duty in the department of tactics; Second Lieutenant Richard E. Thompson is relieved from duty at West Point and ordered to join his proper station; Captain Walter Clifford, of the Seventh infantry, is ordered to hold himself in readiness for examination before the Retiring Board in New York city; Lieutenant Colonel George Thorn, of the Engineer corps, in addition to his present duties, is assigned to the charge of the works of the river and harbor improvement in Massachusetts, including the sea walls in Boston harbor; Major Charles R. Suter, of the Engineer corps, in addition to his other duties, will report to the Secretary of the Treasury for duty as lighthouse engineer of that part of the Fourteenth Lighthouse District comprised of the Mississippi River and the tributaries between the mouth of the Ohio River and New Orleans, relieving Major Merrill.

THE NEW POLICE JUSTICES.

To-day the new Police Justices are to change their respective sitting places. Since the advent of warm weather little or no attention has been paid to the regular assignments, by which they regulated their movements, and as the distribution thus made has proved to be inconvenient to several of the gentlemen a new change has been made. The assignments are as follows:—Judges Sherwood and Wandell are to go to Essex Market, Judges Smith and Flammer are to preside at the Jefferson Market Court, Judges Otterbourg and Murray will see that justice is done in Yorkville, while Judges Bixby and Kilbreath will go to Harlem, which has the most elegantly appointed court room in the county.

FREIGHT AGENTS' MONTHLY MEETING.

Yesterday the regular monthly meeting of the general freight agents representing all of the principal lines of railroads in the country was held at the Metropolitan Hotel, for the purpose of producing vouchers and balancing accounts—a sort of freight clearing house. Before the representative agents disperse the New York Central Railroad Company will tender the party a trip around the harbor, that they may become personally acquainted with the various depots for the reception and delivery of freight. The October meeting will be held in St. Louis, the November meeting in Buffalo, the December meeting in Rochester. The meeting will continue its session to-day.

EPISCOPAL DIOCESAN CONVENTION.

The ninety-first session of the Diocesan Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of New York began its work yesterday, in St. John's church, Varick street. Eighteen ministers and two bishops took part in the services. Bishop Potter was assisted by the Right Rev. Dr. Tozer, of Zanzibar, who will be remembered in connection with the Evangelical Alliance meeting here last year. The communion was administered and the delegates present participated largely in its benefits. The Rev. Dr. Fairbairn, of Annandale, preached an excellent and practical sermon on the qualifications required for the Christian ministry, from II. Thessalonians, iii., 1.

At the close of these services a recess was taken for lunch. When the Convention came together again the list of clerical and lay delegates was called over. Dr. Eigenbrodt was elected Secretary and Mr. E. F. Delancey Treasurer. Bishop Tozer was then introduced to the Convention and accorded a seat beside the presiding Bishop. Standing committees were appointed and applications were received from the Church of the Holy Trinity, Harlem, the Free Church of St. Mary the Virgin and St. Ignatius' church. The Committee on the Incorporation and Admission of Churches recommended the admission of the Holy Trinity and St. Ignatius' churches, but against St. Mary. Mr. S. P. Nash thereupon moved that the Convention disagree with the committee's report and admit this church also. A lively debate sprung up on this question, in which Mr. Nash, Secretary Fish, Rev. Dr. Beach, S. B. Ruggles and others participated. It appeared in the discussion and by the documents presented in connection with its application that St. Mary's church was organized under the law of 1854, not as a church, but as a society for providing free churches. It organized in 1868 and in 1871, 1872 and 1873 successively it applied for admission into the Convention, but was refused every time, because it never showed, by its papers, that it was legally incorporated or that it was a Protestant Episcopal church, or indeed a church at all. And the committee having repeatedly indicated to its trustees these defects, and the Convention two years ago having passed a canon designed especially to meet such cases, the committee and those who favored its report now argued that for the same reasons as before, still existing, this society should not be admitted. Indeed, it was not certain whether this Society of St. Mary was a church or merely a building society. It was found among the papers, however, that the society or church, whichever it is, was recognized by the Bishop as a Protestant Episcopal church, and that in two separate places in its application it pledges itself to obey the canons of the Church and the rules of the Convention. And as it was deemed inconsistent to admit one ritualistic church and keep another out, St. Mary's was brought in also, after which the Convention adjourned until ten o'clock to-day.

DR. PUSEY ON THE POWER OF PRAYER.

Dr. Pusey has addressed a long letter to a society entitled the "English Catholic Union for Prayer," setting forth a series of objections to the Public Worship Regulation act. The evils of the measure are indicated in his second objection, viz., "its suggestiveness of discontent and litigation, putting into the minds of the people that they have reason to be discontented, and teaching ill conditioned people how to vent their own tempers as a matter of conscience." He deplores that by the discussions which have attended the passing of the act through Parliament people's minds have been lashed into a most unhealthy excitement. He is thankful, however, that "by God's good Providence there are still ten months in which they may be tranquillized." The address concludes with an exhortation to prayer for the safety and good guidance of the Church and the conversion of its persecutors.

LAYING OF A CORNER STONE.

Reminiscences of New York Over a Hundred Years Ago.

Yesterday afternoon at three o'clock very interesting services took place at the laying of the corner stone of the Forsyth street Methodist Episcopal church. A large number of the congregation and friends of the old church assembled in the enclosure in front of the building (No. 10 Forsyth street). The proceedings were viewed with the liveliest interest by the denizens of the adjacent tenement houses, who crowded the windows and balconies and generally assisted in the services. Rev. Dr. Roache prayed very fervently for the welfare of the pastor, flock and church, and he was followed by the venerable Rev. Dr. J. B. Wakely, pastor of St. Luke's church, who entertained his hearers with some historical reminiscences of the old church, prefacing his discourse by the beautiful lines commencing—

The perfect world by Adam trod
Was the first temple built by God.

Dr. Wakely said that the first church built on the present site was in 1769, and that the seven lots were purchased for £350 current money of the State of New York. It was formerly the property of James Delancey, who was a tory, and had his lands confiscated. When the church was finished Bishop Asbury wrote to the preacher, Mr. Morrell, saying that his work "gladdened the hearts of the angels and the eyes of the church." The church was then out in the fields, and the people wondered who would ever worship there. In 1833 the church was torn down, and a few unimportant papers found in the box lying in the corner stone. In the present corner stone some currency, a Bible, the daily papers and the contents of the old box will be placed. During the proceedings it was asserted that 2,200 travelling preachers of the Methodist faith were engaged throughout the country, and that the societies numbered 548,593 members. After some interesting remarks by the pastor and the Rev. J. W. Barnhart the services concluded with the singing of the doxology.

NEW YORK CITY.

Tuesday next will be the first day for registering in this city.

The Board of Police Commissioners held an extended meeting last evening, at which they elected all the election officers from amended lists.

Two shaggy bears, one black and the other brown, were performing various antics in Wall street yesterday morning, at the beck of a couple of men with heavy clubs.

The Tammany General Committee meets this evening at the big Wigwam, for the purpose of fixing the time for the primaries and taking a peep at "the slate," so far as yet made out.

The John Kelly Association of the Eighteenth ward held a meeting last night at Jefferson Hall, avenue A. Addresses were made by Messrs. Peter Woods, L. C. Buckley, Martin Larkin, F. R. Lawrence and M. M. Blake.

The body of Francis N. Klinck, ten and a half years of age, who was drowned foot of Forty-third street, East River, on the 19th ult., was yesterday recovered and taken to the Morgue, to await an inquest by Coroner Woltman.

The Chamber of Commerce have invited Professor Bonany Price, of Oxford University, England, to be present at their meeting to-day and to address the Chamber. Professor Price will make an informal address on the subject of financial crisis.

The lecture hall of the Bellevue Hospital Medical College was well filled last evening with students and lady friends, it being the opening of the regular course of lectures for the season. Dr. Taylor occupied the chair and introduced Professor R. Ogden Doremus, who delivered the introductory lecture of the series.

At a meeting of the Nelson W. Young Campaign Club of the Fifth Assembly district, held at their club rooms, corner King and Hudson streets, last night seventy-one new members were enrolled, and resolutions were adopted indorsing the Syracuse platform and candidates and recommending Nelson W. Young for the democratic nomination of Alderman at Large.

Coroner Woltman yesterday held an inquest in the case of Patrick Martin, aged fifty-nine and a native of Ireland, who was killed on the 25th ult., corner of Seventy-second street and Boulevard, by being run over by a truck driven by Joseph Sparks. The jury found the occurrence to have been accidental, and Coroner Woltman discharged the driver from custody.

Mrs. Rhoda Reynolds, a lady seventy-seven years of age and a native of this country, who lived in Williamsburg, yesterday, while passing down East Houston street, was taken suddenly ill opposite No. 288, and expired in a few minutes afterwards. The remains were taken to the Seventeenth precinct station house, and Captain Mount notified her relatives. Coroner Woltman held an inquest.

The question about removing the Smallpox Hospital from Blackwell's Island to Hart's Island, which is comparatively secluded, gains new importance with the approach of the cold season, when the disease most prevails, especially as of late there is discovered a tendency to increased virulence. Though there is nothing especially alarming it has been thought advisable to organize the vaccinating corps, with twelve men in the several sanitary districts, and Dr. J. B. Taylor as Chief of Staff, who will immediately proceed to duty.

The regular weekly public meeting of the Young Men's Woman Suffrage League was held at Plimpton Hall last night, when discussion on the subject of woman's right to suffrage was again renewed. The principal speakers were Messrs. Benno Loewy and Herman P. Wroeger, who favored the granting of the ballot to women, and Messrs. T. Edwin Leary and Edward A. Hogan, who opposed it. On each side the speakers felt that their opponent's remarks were "bosh;" and, having said so plainly, each debater went on to deliver himself of much swollen rhetoric.

Sixty thousand tons of Scranton coal were sold yesterday morning at the rooms of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company, corner of William street and Exchange place. The attendance was large and the bidding spirited. The following are the prices, with a comparison of last month's sales:—

The following gentlemen were elected to membership:—Dr. M. H. Henry, J. T. Williams, M. Ellenger and Dr. Willard Parker, Jr. After some remarks by Dr. Farnell on congestion the chairman announced that the paper which was to have been read on "The Psychology of Criminals," by Dr. Meredith Clymer, would not be forthcoming that evening. A discussion ensued on the consolidation of the laws regarding the insane in the State, after which the meeting adjourned.

A solemn requiem mass for the repose of the soul of the late John A. Hows, the artist, was celebrated at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, corner of Sixth avenue and Washington place, yesterday morning. The Rev. Father Dunphy acted as celebrant, assisted by Rev. Dr. Duffy as deacon and Father Gorman as sub-deacon. The funeral oration was delivered by Rev. Father Farrel, the pastor of the church, who reviewed briefly the career of the departed artist and eulogized in warm terms his character. The coffin containing the remains was of rosewood, with heavy silver mountings. Beautiful flowers, presented by the friends of the dead artist, adorned the lid of the casket. At the conclusion of the mass the remains were taken to Woodlawn Cemetery for interment.

BROOKLYN.

Comptroller Schroeder stated yesterday that he is not a candidate for re-election this fall and will not accept the tempting offer of a renomination from the Committee of One Hundred.

The total number of voters registered on the first day of registration, Tuesday, September 29, was 11,864, being an increase of 394 in the registry as compared with the first day's registry of last year.

District Attorney Winslow yesterday consented to the reduction of the bail demanded for the appearance of Francis D. Moulton to answer the indictments against him for slander to $3,000. The bonds are to be given this forenoon.

Work on the Brooklyn pier of the East River Bridge was resumed yesterday. About sixteen feet of stone has yet to be laid before the saddles can be placed in position. The four saddles over which the main cables are to pass will weigh about 25,000 pounds each.

Yesterday afternoon a fire broke out in the varnish factory of Pond & Co., Nos. 61 and 63 Kent avenue, causing a damage to the stock and fixtures of $1,000; insured for $4,500. The building, which was owned by Mr. S. J. Bordett, was damaged to the amount of $400; insured. The cooper shop of Brennan & Colleger, adjoining, was destroyed; loss, $1,600.

According to the annual report of the Board of Managers of the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor the receipts during the year amounted to $27,716 72. Within the period named nearly 6,000 families have been assisted, including 23,000 persons. Over 9,000 separate visits have been made, 1,100 tons of coal and 50 chaldrons of coke have been furnished the poor, $12,000 have been expended in provisions, $1,000 in bedding and clothing, $400 in paying rents and a large amount for medicines. The society is out of debt, with the exception of a small mortgage on its real estate.

Yesterday, about three o'clock A. M., cries of "Police!" and "Murder!" drew the attention of the police in the vicinity to the corner of Debevoise street, Brooklyn, where they found an elderly man, who refused to give his name, encircled in the folds of a slip-noose, at the end of a long rope. He told the officers that he was followed by three highwaymen, who lassooed him on that corner; but who, when they heard the police approaching, stole a bundle he was carrying and ran away. Then, taking a roll of bills from his pocket, he said, "There is over $100 which they did not get." He then thanked them for their timely assistance and wended his way rejoicing.

TO THE PUBLIC.

ASK FOR ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER,

AND HAVE NO OTHERS.

See government stamp has printed on it, in white letters, B. BRANDRETH.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS, prepared by Porous Plaster Company, are commanding the attention of the world. This remedy applied to the spine produces sound, refreshing sleep when soporifics, including morphine and hydrate of chloral have been administered to the patient in vain.

When we consider how much dyspepsia is occasioned by the want of sleep, how much the recuperative powers of the body are retarded from the same cause, we may easily comprehend the amazing benefit imparted by the application of this Plaster. We warn the public against base imitations and brazen forgeries of this admirable preparation.

Ask for ALLCOCK'S POROUS, and have no others.

B. BRANDRETH,
President of the Porous Plaster Company.
